'BRUISE' NOT 'CRUISE'; CROSSWORD PRIZE $125

"Bruise" was the word that threw most Times' Crossword Puzzlers for a loss last week, sending the prize to $125.

"Some folks enjoy telling about one they have had" was how the clue read. Nearly everybody who goes on a "cruise"—which was the most common answer—takes pleasure in telling about it.

"Bakers" instead of "bakery" and "right" instead of "light" were other solutions that evaded many contestants.

Complete answer and explanation for last week's puzzle and a new puzzle for this week are on Page 22 of today's Times.

FIREMEN WALK TO FIRE

Killer Smog Lifts, Drops Again on U.K.

LONDON (Reuters) — Firemen were called out to a London blaze early today, but had to walk in front of the fire engine—to guide it through fog-bound streets.

The fog slowly lifted, easing London's choking two-day black-out, but it spread north as far as the Scottish border.

The fog belt moved north of a line from Cardiff, south Wales, to Newcastle on the east coast.

But London was warned by the meteorological office that its poisonous mixture of fog and smoke—the worst since 4,000 people died in December, 1952—might thicken tonight.

One London death early today was attributed to the stifling fog. Many are in hospital.

In the Thames estuary ships were on the move again after a two-day standstill, but on the northwest coast the normally bustling Mersey lay silent under a murky shroud.

BLACKED OUT

The dockside city of Liverpool was completely blacked out. So was Birmingham, industrial centre of the Midlands.

Samples of London air taken Thursday showed worse pollution than the average for the "killer smog" of 1952, the headquarters of the fuel research station reported.

Nova Scotia Apples Get Price Support

OTTAWA (CP)—The cabinet has agreed to provide a form of price support for Nova Scotia apples, it was learned today.

Details likely will be announced later today but it is understood the federal aid will apply to top grades and specified varieties.

It also is understood that under the scheme, producers will market their crop and if the price obtained falls below a certain level, the federal government will make up the difference.

Hearing Set April 24

OTTAWA (CP)—Chief Justice Patrick Kerwin of Canada today fixed April 24 as the date for hearings in the Supreme Court on the constitutional validity of Ontario's farm marketing legislation.

Tree Crashes Mainland Bunkhouse, 2 Hurt; New Coast Storm Coming

Gale-driven waves lashing at Sunny Beach, near Qualicum, Thursday destroyed two cabins and undermined 200 yards of highway, it was learned here today.

The storm that made highway travel risky is the same one that threw driftwood over the highway at Campbell River, and wrecked the roofs of seven homes.

Don Callow, Sonora Island logger who is spending the winter at Sunny Beach, said the blacktop on the road surface was intact, but was undermined by the waves. The resort is about 10 miles north of Qualicum Beach, on Qualicum Bay.

SAFE TONIGHT

"Highways department trucks worked on the job all morning," he said. "It will be safe enough tonight."

At the height of the storm, waves and driftwood washed right across the highway, he said.

The cabins were a part of Sunny Beach Resorts Ltd., owned by L. A. Miles. Waves gradually undercut the foundations until the houses collapsed. Even the chimneys and fireplaces were demolished.

Designed for summer use only, they were not occupied at the time. Insurance was carried.

Slight damage was done to a seawall at Shady Rest Hotel in Qualicum Beach, and the beach is choked with logs.

91-MILE WIND

Winds reached 91 miles an hour in a timber-topping spree over the southwest corner of British Columbia, an airline reported today after checking its instruments.

New gales were forecast in the wake of the storm that struck Wednesday night and Thursday but they were not expected to match the fury of the first blow.

Two construction workers were injured Thursday when the winds sent a giant tree crashing on a bunkhouse at Brunswick Beach on Howe Sound.

The bunkhouse was demolished, Leif Haugbrønning, 19, suffered a crushed chest and Sylvester Nonnis, 22, a fractured skull.

The youths, both employed by a construction company extending the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, were taken to hospital by water taxi and ambulance.

Horseshoe Bay, summer resort community near the entrance to Howe Sound, was without light and telephone for three hours.

BEACH WALL DOWN

The Victoria area had its own troubles during the storm. When the Island View beach seawall collapsed, water flooded into homes in the area and backed up Telegraph road, main thoroughfare to the beach from Pat Bay Highway.

Weatherman William Mackie predicted winds here would be southeasterly, 15 to 25 miles, and temperatures would be between 35 and 42 degrees. Skies will be mostly cloudy, he said.

Berserk Gunman Fights 6 Policemen

Bride Held In Shack As Hostage

NIDDRIE, Ont. (CP)—A berserk railway laborer, with his beautiful young bride held as hostage, today fought a gun battle with Ontario Provincial Police from a barricaded shack in this isolated railway settlement.

The gunman, identified as Mike Timoshenko, fired more than 100 rounds of ammunition at six police constables who surrounded the window-shattered shack standing only 100 yards from the main line of the Canadian National Railways.

Several CNR trains, including the eastbound Super-Continental, passed through the battle-ground, early in the afternoon. Railway officials in Winnipeg said the Super-Continental was not fired on as it moved between the shack and the police.

TRAINS PROTECTED

A railway spokesman said a passing track running between the Niddrie station and Timoshenko's shack was filled with freight equipment to form a protective wall between the scene of the battle and the main line.

The spokesman said railway passengers were not considered to be in any danger.

Police said early this afternoon no one was injured in the running battle.

Niddrie is located 206 miles east of Winnipeg midway between Sioux Lookout and Reddick. There is no communication into the tiny settlement.

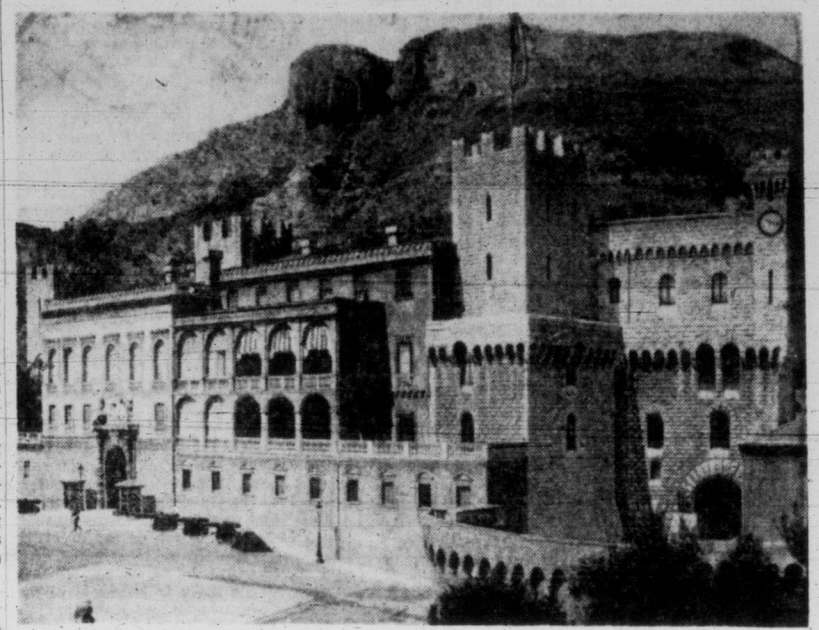

POLICE RUSH TO SCENE

Six police from the Kenora detachment were rushed to Niddrie. Two went in by train Thursday night, two more by train this morning and two by car later today.

Those who went by car could only drive part way. The police were forced to walk six miles along a bush road from Amesdale to Niddrie.

Inspector Corsie said police were to be supplied with more firearms later today. They will be taken out by car to Amesdale and taken the remaining distance on foot.

WHERE PRINCE AND PRINCESS WILL LIVE

Film queen Grace Kelly will make her home in this sumptuous palace in Monaco after her marriage to Prince Rainier III. The movie star, who is being referred to as "Princess Kelly" by the Monaco people, has said they will be married sometime after Easter. She has two films to complete.

SOLUTION: TWO CEREMONIES?

Monaco Toasts Itself Dry -- But Cries at U.S. Rites

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (UP)—Citizens of this tiny principality said today that Prince Rainier III MUST marry actress Grace Kelly, here and not in Philadelphia.

Jubilant at the announcement of the couple's engagement was dampened by the news that they might get married in the United States.

A diplomatic tug-of-war appeared building up. "For us," one official said, "this IS the marriage of the century."

He recalled that the marriage on March 19, 1920, of Prince

Pierre and Princess Charlotte, Rainier's parents, was one of the gayest and most lavish ever seen in Monaco.

But even that would be outshone by what could be done now for the prince and Miss Kelly, the official said.

The official principality was bedecked with American flags and the red and white flags of Monaco. Shops were decorated with flowers.

Portraits of the prince were placed in all shop windows and copies for display at home were soon sold out. There was an equal demand for portraits of Miss Kelly, but nobody had any left.

The announcement of the wedding touched off such a round of joyful toasts that Monaco was running low on champagne.

ALL'S A-WHIRL

Announcement of the engagement sent Monaco spinning like a roulette wheel.

All along the winding streets of Monaco and its twin city of Monte Carlo there was happy chatter about "Princess Kelly" who will become Her Serene Highness, the Princess of Monaco, or Princess Grace.

At New York Miss Kelly and her Prince will make their first public appearance tonight as an engaged couple, but today they secluded themselves in her Fifth Avenue apartment to discuss an important matter—the wedding date—tentatively set for "some time after Easter."

Miss Kelly's marriage to the handsome prince probably will signal the end of her highly successful movie career, but when the couple can be married depends a lot on Hollywood.

TWO MORE MOVIES

The icy socialite star is committed to do two more pictures for MGM, "High Society" with Bing Crosby, will begin production Jan. 17. After the wedding and honeymoon Miss Kelly will return to Hollywood for the second picture, "Destiny Woman," with Jimmy Stewart.

The filming of "High Society" is expected to take about two months, a studio spokesman said. Since both the actress and the Prince are Roman Catholics it is unlikely they would wed in Lent. Easter is on April 1 this year.

Big Cedar Found for Totem But Mungo Asks Better One

BY MONTE ROBERTS

MUIR CREEK, V.I.—This morning we plodded through the snow-laden woods near here in search of a giant cedar tree which is to form the raw material for the world's tallest totem pole.

With Mungo Martin, chief carver, his son David, and Wilson Duff of the provincial museum, Times photographer Bill Halkett and I left town soon after dawn to begin the search.

At Sooke we met Ted Shaw, the logging expert who has been asked by B.C. Forest Products to find the tree that will fill the conditions—at least 170 feet when trimmed and 16 inches through at the top.

Mr. Shaw has already spent two days in the woods sizing up the forest monsters.

NEAR ROAD

He had one selected. It is on the banks of Muir Creek. It is not far from the highway and would present no difficulties in logging or in transporting to tidewater.

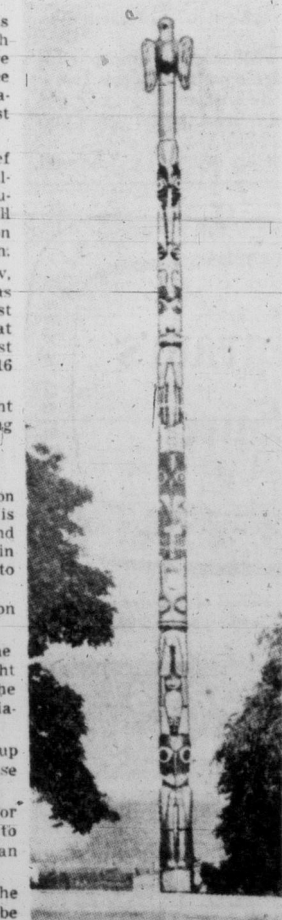

We reached this tree soon after 9 a.m.

It looked like a beauty to me. Mr. Shaw estimates its height at 150 feet as it stands in the forest. It is five feet in diameter at the base.

Mungo and David sized it up carefully. They tested the base for rot and found none.

But after talking it over for quite some time they came to the conclusion a better one can be found.

Mungo explained that the sapwood of the tree must be

BEAUTIFUL BUT BEATABLE

ABLE is Tacoma, Wash., totem pole which the people there claim is the world's tallest. It was carved from 105-foot cedar, but a lot of the pole is buried in the ground; only 75 feet of carving. Toronto's "world tallest" has 86 feet of carving. Victoria's will top that by at least 10 feet, leaving no doubt as to which city has the "champion."

Chile Strike Threat Alarms Government

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Most of Chile was under a state of siege today as the government moved to meet a general strike call and what it termed "Communist agitation."

The government of President Carlos Ibanez declared the state of siege—a modified form of martial law—Thursday night after adjourning Congress. All military leaves were cancelled and all soldiers were ordered on the alert.

Chile's big central labor union called for the strike Jan. 9 to protest the government's plan to freeze wages, prices and pensions for civil servants as an anti-inflation step. Labor leaders said the freeze would cause hunger.

Crowds marched through Santiago's streets Thursday night, demonstrating against the government action.

Police started a roundup of prominent labor leaders, arresting 51.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

GIVE UNTO US, O GOD, courage to face with resolution and equanimity the varied circumstances of everyday life without being paralysed by anxiety, or crippled by fear. Whatever our needs may be, may we always remember the word of our Master, "Your heavenly Father knoweth that you have need of these things," and may that knowledge give serenity and poise at all our doings. So may we ever press on to the goal that is set before us; in Jesus' name. Amen.

FIRST ATOM ELECTRICITY READY IN U.K. OCT. 17

LONDON (UP) — The world's first full-scale power plant driven by atomic energy will hook into Britain's electrical system Oct. 17, it was announced Thursday night.

Buckingham Palace disclosed the completion date of the pioneer Calder Hall atomic power station in an announcement that Queen Elizabeth herself will perform the official opening.

New Tax Proposal Completed by Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister St. Laurent said Thursday he will send provincial premiers a letter this weekend concerning federal-provincial tax relations. It is understood that it will contain a proposal for a federal tax-sharing formula to replace tax rental pacts in 1957.

Farm Chief Supports Butter Plan

TORONTO (CP) — A leader in Canadian agriculture says consumers benefit most from the federal government's butter storage program.

H. H. Hannam, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, said Thursday that the butter support program means a direct dollars-and-cents benefit to consumers.

He told the annual meeting of the Ontario Cheese Producers' Association that a few years ago, when no butter was in storage, the price went to 85 cents a pound, while at present first-grade butter is selling in Toronto for about 63 cents a pound.

He said Canada has and always will be a high-cost area for milk production because of long winters and the high cost of stable feeding. For this reason, the Canadian industry had a legitimate argument for tariff protection.

Novelist La Farge Dies After Seizure

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UP) — Novelist- poet Christopher La Farge died here Thursday night after suffering a cerebral hemorrhage. He was 58.

He became a best-selling novelist with publication in 1946 of "The Sudden Guest" which sold more than 1,000,000 copies.

CHEESE WORKERS — Canada's process cheese industry employed 1,292 persons in 1954, a gain of 10 per cent over 1953.

Nitroglycerine Thrown in Gorge By Suspect, Detective Testifies

A Saanich detective testified Thursday that Fred Schultz, 1418 Cook, charged with possessing burglary tools, told him he disposed of a quantity of nitroglycerine in waters of the Gorge.

Detective Joseph Armstrong, giving evidence at a preliminary hearing on the charge in Saanich court, said Schultz, fled while he was searching the other suspects' last November near a Gorge Road store.

Magistrate Henry Hall committed Schultz for trial in a higher court.

Two other men—Bhaga (Ram) Singh, 2550 Vancouver, and Nelson Hutchinson, 642 Johnson—were committed for trial today on a joint charge of burglary tool possession. The charges arose from the same incident.

IN DARKNESS

Detective Armstrong told the court he was searching the area at 2:30 on the morning of Nov. 26. The three had been sitting in a car, he said.

The detective said he searched Schultz and found four detonating caps, a battery and a strip of celluloid on his person.

As he went to search Hutchinson, the officer said Schultz stepped back from the headlights of the police car and faded into the shadows. The detective said the next thing he heard was the sound of someone running.

The accused ignored a shouted warning to stop, he said.

The detective said he next saw Schultz in Regina after his arrest by RCMP.

SAFETY FACTOR

While returning by plane, Detective Armstrong said he told Schultz he was interested in the safety of children or other persons who might come in contact with nitroglycerine.

He said he asked assurance that it was in a safe place.

"He said, 'Yes, it is safe,'" the detective testified.

"I said, 'Where is it?'"

"He said, 'I threw it in the Gorge,'" Detective Armstrong told court.

During the hearing for Singh and Hutchinson, several exhibits were entered. Among the exhibits was a six-foot-long iron bar, a smaller bar and detonating caps.

Singh and Hutchinson had chosen trial by a court composed of a judge and jury, while Schultz elected to be tried before a judge without a jury.

Prosecutor Lloyd McKenzie said there is a provision under which the attorney-general can six miles by sleigh or railway section car.

Inspector Corsie said police were not firing on Timoshenko. "We can't take a chance on answering his fire because he has his wife with him," he said.

"My men have the shack surrounded from a distance of about 100 yards. There is no danger of him making a break and getting away."

Police threw a tear gas bomb at the shack, located 100 yards from the rail line, but it failed to dislodge Timoshenko.

LOTS OF AMMUNITION

Police said the worker, newly arrived in the area, had a large supply of ammunition and food in the shack.

Timoshenko took refuge, in the shack when police arrived at 6 p.m. Thursday in response to pleas from nearby residents who told them he was "walking around" with a rifle, threatening to shoot everyone in sight.

It was believed Timoshenko had an argument Thursday with his foreman, who is also his brother-in-law.

Timoshenko fired a shot at the foreman, who was not immediately identified, but missed.

Police said the windows in the shack were broken. The temperature hovered around zero.

UBCM Appoints Reeve Murison To Executive

NORTH COWICHAN (CP) — Reeve C. A. P. Murison has been appointed to the executive of the Union of B.C. Municipalities to fill one of two vacancies created by the defeat of office holders in the December elections.

The reeve is president of the Vancouver Island Municipalities Association which will meet in Nanaimo Jan. 25 to discuss proposed changes in the Municipal Act.

WARREN'S HOLLY GIFTS MAKE BIG HIT IN EAST

Publicity commissioner George I. Warren is still receiving letters of thanks for more than 100 boxes of Victoria holly he sent out at Christmas.

"Whenever I get your holly I feel like stepping into a plane and coming out for tea at the Empress," wrote W. H. Hobbs, vice-president of Canadian National Railways in Montreal.

Leading businessmen in Montreal, Toronto, Chicago and other points east are equally appreciative.

Mr. Warren instituted the custom of sending out boxes of holly from Victoria more than 30 years ago and it is still gaining in popularity.

"I get more and more letters every year," he said.

Mayor Foresees 1-Way Streets

Traffic Limitation Predicted For Douglas and Government

One-way traffic on Douglas and Government Streets was forecast as a long-range development for Victoria by Mayor P. B. Scurrah Thursday.

In a speech to Victoria Rotarians he said he could also visualize a future need to prohibit parking on Government Street between 4:30 and 6 p.m., to spend $1,250,000 for a Dallas Road retaining wall and $250,000 for a breakwater to front the Causeway.

"I don't think it is going to come tomorrow. Don't think I'm going to advocate we go hog wild on spending but there are some expenditures which must be made," he stated.

He made the predictions in winding up a description of public works programs facing the city. He said councils in past years, particularly in the 40's had lived year-to-year without long range planning. "They had one main objective... to keep taxes down."

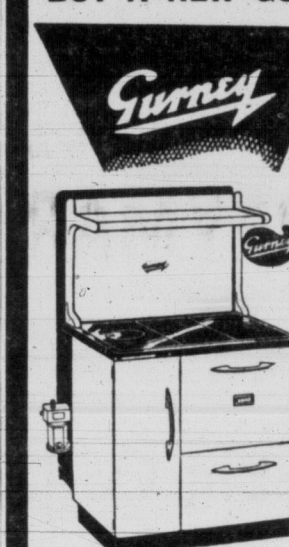

LONG VIEW NEEDED

"Taxes must be consistent with development," he said previously the city had been doing "a patchwork job" on public works projects and reiterated his earlier request to council to launch this year a complete depreciation repair program for sewer and road replacement on a long-term basis.

He said traffic is another urgent problem. "There is a car at present for every 3.5 persons and the saturation point is not yet reached. We are going to find the streets so clogged people won't come downtown."

He felt the solution is to use the net income from parking meters to set up off-street parking areas and educate the public to make use of them. Otherwise, he thought downtown building values would depreciate.

Price-Fixing Charge Looms For 12 Firms

OTTAWA (CP) — The restrictive trade practices commission has charged a price-fixing combine has been operating in the production and installation of heavy conveyor belts, chains and machinery. It urged steps be taken to crack it for the public's good.

Named in the commission's 143-page report to Justice Minister Garson made public today were 12 companies, including four subsidiaries of United States firms. Seven were named as active or former members of the Conveyor and Power Transmission Institute of Canada which the commission described as a trade association and key link to the combine.

Involved in the investigation were four firms with head offices in Toronto, three in Winnipeg, and one each in Montreal, Plessisville, Que., Belleville, Ont., Calgary and Edmonton.

ONLY SYLVANIA HAS THESE OUTSTANDING TELEVISION FEATURES

HALOLIGHT

Only Sylvania TV has Halolight—the application to TV of the universally-recognized principle of "Surround Light". Motion picture theatres for years have applied "Surround Light" to their screens for better, easier viewing. Now you can enjoy these advantages at home with Sylvania TV. Halolight: relieves the harsh contrast between the very bright TV picture and normal room light — makes TV viewing easier on the eyes for you and your children. Halolight is the only scientific eye-comfort feature in TV today — makes viewing pleasanter — makes the picture appear larger, sharper and clearer.

"STUDIO-CLEAR" SOUND SYSTEM

High fidelity speakers with extra magnets — acoustically tone-matched to the cabinet. Extra wide audio range for crystal-clear tonal quality at all volume levels.

POWER-PACKED CUSTOM CHASSIS

Sylvania engineered to bring new brightness to today's TV screens. Gives sterling picture performance, even far away in the ultra-fringe area of TV reception. The increased high voltage capacity assures greatly increased picture power for today's finest TV performance. Sylvania's chassis provides ALL the picture power the tube will deliver.

SILVER SCREEN 85 PICTURE TUBE

Another Sylvania exclusive development—The Aluminized Picture Tube is activated with real silver, increases picture contrast up to seven times—increases the intensity of the blacks and whites—brings out many more in-between greys on which all picture detail depends. Silver Screen 85 assures new full-depth photographic reproduction of the TV picture.

TONGUE-TESTING TELLS NOTHING, DOCTOR SAYS

LONDON (AP)—Dr. Irvine Loudon has told the medical profession that doctors are wasting their time by asking patients to stick out their tongues.

Writing in the British Medical Journal, he says he examined 700 patients with coated tongues and discovered:

Almost all heavy smokers have furred tongues. Many non-smokers with upset stomachs do not have coated tongues.

Some perfectly healthy people can have a furred tongue even if they do not smoke.

Faure Move For Unity Rejected

PARIS (AP)—The outlook for formation of a new French government became gloomier today with a rebuff by the Republican Front alliance to overtures by Premier Edgar Faure for a wide centre coalition.

The recently formed Republican Front is led by former premier Pierre Mendes-France, who heads one wing of the Radical Socialists, and Socialist leader Guy Mollet.

Mollet announced the rejection of Faure's bid after a meeting with Mendes-France. He said all elements of the Republican Front will stick together and form a government on their own if they get the chance.

The Republican Front controls some 160 seats and Faure's about 150.

WOULD HAVE MINORITY

Faure suggested that the next government be formed by a wide coalition of centre parties because of the strength—202 seats—recorded in Monday's election by the Communists and anti-tax supporters of Pierre Poujade. Together, however, the two centre factions' 340 or so seats would be a majority in the 596-seat assembly.

Labor Win Deadlocks Aussie Senate

MELBOURNE (Reuters)—Australian Prime Minister Robert Menzies faces a deadlocked Senate after July 1, it became clear today with the election of a member of the Anti-Communist Labor party.

Frank McManus gained the last of five Senate seats contested in Victoria in elections held Dec. 10.

After July 1, when 30 of the present senators retire, party strengths in the Senate will be: Liberal-Country party, 30; Labor, 28; Anti-Communist Labor party, 2.

Menzies has a majority of 28 in the House of Representatives and observers expect him to push through important legislation quickly when Parliament resumes next month. This way he can use the Senate majority he holds until July 1.

Among other officers elected were first vice-president, Alan Husband; second vice-president, Mrs. Marjorie Norbury; secretary, Marlene Vance; treasurer, Barry Wharfe; auditor, S. H. Frame; and registrar, Mrs. Doris Mabbott.

BONIN RETURNS

BOSTON (AP)—Forward Marcel Bonin will rejoin his Boston teammates in time for Saturday night's National Hockey League game at Toronto, the Bruins announced Thursday. Bonin has been out with several injuries including an infected ankle.

(UP, Reuters Dispatches)

LONDON — Prime Minister Anthony Eden will give in to a Labor Party demand for a House of Commons debate on British surplus arms sales to the Middle East, informed sources said.

The sources said the Labor MPs would have introduced a vote of censure if Eden had refused to debate the arms issue.

Meanwhile, the heat was off today—to some extent—for Eden and his government.

After a series of critical editorials, some Conservative newspapers rallied and rallied, with certain reservations, to Sir Anthony's defence. The right-wing Daily Express comments:

"The accusations... have been concerned with minor issues. A great many petty charges don't add up to an indictment."

"Blunders have been made. But they happened a long way down the line... The wave of sniping at Eden will pass. It has little significance."

The News Chronicle, a Liberal paper, suggests that the charges against the premier are rather trifling. "The hounds of Fleet street are in full cry... In the excitement of the chase many of the hounds are dashing off on false trails."

ANOTHER MATTER

The real basis of discontent, it says, is not heroin, fish or exported tanks—three issues on which the government has been criticized—but in failure to combat rising prices and inflation.

"The country is justified in demanding that much more should be done—urgently. But to write off the prime minister as a dithering failure is another matter."

In a separate article, the newspaper examines the claim that Sir Anthony is a ditherer—the theme "running through every criticism"—and suggests that on this basis the attacks are unfair.

"Sir Anthony has been premier for nine months. Is this long enough for a man to master the nation's top job? ... Is the wave of criticism fair? Take his handling of the cabinet. For a body presided over by a ditherer it manages to work with surprising briskness."

Priest's 'Home for Hoods' Backed by Ex-King of Vice

NAPLES, Italy (UP)—A Roman Catholic priest Thursday claimed support from Charles "Lucky" Luciano, one-time New York vice overlord, for plans to open a home for gangsters deported from the United States, who cannot find honest work in Italy.

Father Michele Blandino Della Croce revealed his plans to help the ex-gangsters to reporters last night. He said he won support for the scheme from Luciano, who was deported from the United States nearly 10 years ago. Luciano now runs a prosperous medical equipment store in Naples.

Hundreds of ex-gangsters have found it almost impossible to obtain honest work in Italy after they were deported from the United States. Things got so tough that former Luciano lieutenant Frank Frigenti once threatened to stage a march of 500 fellow hoodlum exiles on Rome. Police quickly squelched the idea.

A Liberal Slip

THE GALLUP POLL, WHICH has forecast Canadian elections with unfailing accuracy, recently measured the existing strength of the political parties. As was to be expected, the Liberal Party's support has dropped—not very much, to be sure, but significantly.

As of now, according to the poll, the St. Laurent Government could command 46 per cent of the popular vote, less than at any time in recent years. The pollsters say that the shift away from the Liberals "is consistent enough to constitute a trend."

All the Government's losses have become gains for the Conservative opposition. It held 26 per cent of the electorate in a poll last June. The figure has lately risen to 32 per cent. This is no great rise but it seems to indicate that the Conservatives touched bottom some time ago, after many years of weakness, and are now moving upward. Moreover, in Ontario, the historic Tory stronghold, the party has increased its support by 22 per cent and in Quebec by 17 per cent.

The C.C.F. and the Social Credit Party remain almost stationary. It is clear that the Government's losses are virtually all gains for the Conservative Party. The great groundswell of Social Credit, predicted by Premier Bennett, has yet to show itself.

It is impossible, of course, to interpret the poll figures, even if they are accurate, in terms of party strength in a future Parliament. Before the election, expected in 1957, public opinion doubtless will show substantial changes.

If the election were held now, it seems evident that the Government would lose substantially, at least in the two great central provinces, and the Conservatives would gain there. But the Liberal Party still dominates our politics and no other party could hope to come close to a majority, on the basis of the latest figures.

Though the Government apparently could be re-elected today, with some losses, it cannot lightly brush off a marked decline in its popularity. If this is indeed a trend, as the Gallup poll experts say, it could continue with serious results for the Liberal Party. The seasoned Liberal politicians, therefore, will take the latest test of public opinion as a warning, not to be neglected.

This is not a new experience for the Liberal Party. In 1943 the Gallup poll showed the Liberals, Conservatives and C.C.F. almost exactly equal in strength. An election at that point apparently would have produced no majority in Parliament but a stalemate at a time of war.

The late William Lyon Mackenzie King read the poll figures and ordered the re-organization of his party. It was so thoroughly re-organized and equipped with such popular postwar policies that victory proved easy in 1945. Four years later Mr. St. Laurent increased the Liberal majority to an all-time high, and held it in 1953.

The sudden Liberal recovery after 1943 could be repeated between now and 1957 but only if the Government takes the lessons of these times to heart.

There can be no doubt that the Government has been weakened by conditions beyond its control—mainly the worldwide farm problem—and by its own mistakes. Another parliamentary session like that of 1945 would prove gravely damaging. The fiasco of Mr. Howe's indefensible Defence Production Act and the cabinet split on natural gas policy are not likely to be repeated.

Nevertheless, the restiveness of the whole farm population, the wheat surplus and the increasing menace of inflation will test the Government's capacity to the limit before Parliament adjourns next mid-summer. What will the Gallup poll show then?

With 10 Per Cent Sincerity?

SOVIET PUBLICITY SOURCES have made much of the 10 per cent cut in Russia's military budget announced a few days ago. In so far as any reduction of military expenditures in a war-threatened world is commendable, this action is to be commended.

But the fact that the U.S.S.R. still has the largest army in the world—much of it being trained in atomic war tactics—a formidable air force, a growing submarine navy and vast numbers of tanks, heavy guns and other armament including nuclear weapons, diminishes the significance of a 10 per cent cut in further war costs.

This is particularly so in view of the professed reason for the Soviet reduction. The cut was made, according to the Russian finance minister, Mr. Zverev, because "the Soviet is showing concern not in words but in deeds in reducing international tension and guaranteeing peace and security."

On this basis the Russian move is a complete failure. There can be few people on this side of the iron curtain today who feel any more secure as a result of the Soviet budgetary cut. On the contrary, because of Russia's record in international affairs, the natural reaction is to discount the cut entirely and wonder a little anxiously just what further trouble this gambit may presage.

If it is world tension the Kremlin wishes to ease, then a much better start might be made in bringing a reasonable attitude to the international conference tables, in curbing the unsettling threats and scurrilous accusations of Mr. Khrushchev, and in acting generally in a manner to show that the ruin and defeat of all capitalist nations is not still the chief long-range objective of communism.

When such assurance can be successfully inculcated abroad, the 10 per cent arms cut will look after themselves.

Big Radar Is Watching You

THE THIRTEEN FATALITIES and many injuries which occurred in Greater Victoria traffic during the past year emphasize the need for more stringent control.

Most frequently in the news of major accidents was the new Island Highway outlet, one of the broadest, straightest thoroughfares in the area. Carelessness, bad judgment and other human failures were the basis of most mishaps; but speed was a common denominator in many of them.

It is not speed alone which necessarily causes accidents, but many motorists still fail to realize that at a higher speed, perhaps safe enough in itself, attention must be keener, reactions must be quicker when something unforeseen occurs. It is because so many drivers are not prepared for quick emergency action that speeds must be regulated.

For this reason the new radar equipment in the Colwood area promises great benefits. Not only will speeders be caught, with definite photographic evidence of their misdeeds, but potential speeders will be curbed in their enthusiasm.

The radar eye will work unnoticed but effectively. The only "safe" driving will be that within the limits of the law.

Keep Working on the Ferry

OFFICIALS OF THE UNION Steamships Ltd., on whom this community has placed hopes for an efficient Saanich peninsula-B.C. mainland ferry service, now say they do not expect to have a suitable vessel for the run before the middle of 1957.

This announcement will cause some disappointment. But the fact that Union Steamships has encountered some delay should not slow down efforts of local agencies, City Council and Chamber of Commerce in particular, to acquire a service between the two points. Such a transport link is needed to provide a more convenient connection with the mainland than the roundabout trip to Nanaimo and thence to Vancouver or Horse Shoe Bay.

Victoria is not committed to any one company for the Island-Mainland service. It should welcome any concern which can meet the needs of the day in improved water haul for freight and cars, as well as passengers. The Union Steamships general manager says that study of the proposed service has revealed no reason "why it wouldn't be feasible." That is a positive statement which should encourage Victorians to continue their campaign. And they can advance the scheme by doing whatever is in their power at this end, to make the project attractive to transportation interests.

THE COLD WAR

THE GOLD WAR

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

A FEW weeks before Christmas most newspapers carried a story about the death of a London hotel porter, a Swiss named Joseph Meyer, who was credited (in varying degrees) with the invention of the dish known as Peach Melba. According to Mr. Meyer's daughter: "One night my father suggested that a dish be produced in honor of Mme. Melba. Together my father and Escoffier invented Peach Melba: vanilla ice cream, sliced peaches, and a syrupy sauce." Well, that is not how it happened, according to the life of Escoffier written by his colleagues. What really happened was this: one night at her London hotel, Melba was charmed all to bits by a dessert which to Escoffier seemed laughably simple. It was merely a swan made of ice and filled with vanilla ice cream and peaches. "No sauce," Melba raved and raved about this dish. Escoffier was embarrassed, interested, and a little amused. (I believe Melba's letter is reproduced in the book, but I haven't got the book with me at the moment.)

FOR ever after that, Melba's almost hysterical praise naturally remained fixed in his memory. So that when he did invent a really excellent dish, based on peaches and ice cream, it wasn't very odd that he should name it AFTER her. But he did not create it FOR her. She wasn't there. The whole thing about Peach Melba is the raspberry puree poured over it. It is not what the porter's daughter calls "a syrupy sauce," but raspberry puree and nothing else. And by the way, the peaches are neither raw nor canned, but freshly poached in syrup flavored with vanilla.

The book also makes quite a point of insisting that Melba Toast was not invented for Mme. Melba. It was invented for Mme. Ritz, the wife of Escoffier's boss. Mme. Ritz didn't want the toast named after herself, and suggested the name of Melba. You know, after they got into the swing of naming things after Melba, around that hotel, it became second nature to them.

ONE can picture the great Ritz phoning downstairs to the great Escoffier and saying "Hello, great Escoffier, this is the great Ritz speaking. This is a cup of tea you sent up. How did you make it?" The great Escoffier replies "Instead of putting a flame under the kettle, I used a blow-torch from above. It seems to bring out the aroma of the London water. I have called this Devilish Tea." "We can't do that," says the great Ritz, "people will think there is curry powder in it. I will think of a name." Five minutes later they phone each other back. Simultaneously they cry "Let's call it Melba Tea!" Mutual congratulations. And another milestone has passed under the bridge.

I was interested to read in this book how real Melba toast is made. It is twice-cooked. You toast an ordinary slice of bread of an ordinary thickness. You then split it in half and toast it again. On writing this down, I realize I am not so interested as I thought I was. Let us change the subject. This toast is too dry.

ARCHITECTURAL COOKERY

TALKING of triumphs in the kitchen, I did read about the birthday cake which was given to Sir W. Churchill a month ago. The cake was in the shape of a straw hat, called in England a boater. This was to symbolize the fact that Sir Winston is an old Harrow boy. . . . the boys at Harrow wear boaters. On top of the hat was a replica of the town clock bell of Williamsburg in Virginia, with a suitable tribute written on it. Inside the bell was a pouch, and on the pouch was written "faites vos jeux," which the croupiers cry at the gaming tables, meaning "place your bets." Inside the pouch was a secret gift known only to the pastry cook and Lady Churchill.

Now, that is quite a cake. Mind you, some of the symbols might be misinterpreted. A straw hat in winter might be thought to refer to a certain stubbornness. The bell might be a reference to the Bellman in "The Hunting of the Snark," who said, "What I tell you three times is true." And the gambler's cry could mean all sorts of critical things about strategy. . . . not necessarily true things, but there is more than one school of thought about (for example) the Dardanelles campaign.

AS for the secret in the pouch, the thing I suppressed; this could be a sly dig by Churchill's enemies who claim that in writing history and in authorizing official histories, he is perhaps a little too selective. All history is a selective process. His enemies merely claim that in his selections Sir Winston keeps all self-criticism tied up in a bag or pouch. I don't necessarily agree with even one item of this possible symbolism. I'm just reminding you that we symbolic cake-makers can't think of everything—but we should try.

I once made a symbolic cake for Sir John A. Macdonald. I was not myself a Father of Confederation. . . . I was more a Cousin of Confederation, a country cousin. Let down into the top of the cake was a well, with Truth living in the well as she is supposed to do, and Sir John, in the form of a candy doll, was letting down a bucket for her. Around the cake was written THE TRUTH WILL DAWN. And do you know what those awful, awful Liberals said? They said the cake meant Sir John drank water only at dawn. . . . if then.

As Our Readers See It

WHO IS THE CENSOR?

What has become of that tattered old banner which flew so bravely, in a mentally courageous era, bearing the challenge "Liberty, equality, fraternity"? It now has a competitor, which has unfurled its colors in the interest of the long promised bright New Order, carrying the strange device "Conformity, uniformity, classification."

There is a matter, I find most intriguing. That is "who" is the censor that decides what the Canadians shall, or shall not, read? A Czar with so much power should at least receive the homage he must feel he so justly deserves. Since Canada now has troops and their families practically established in foreign lands, with exchange being made at times—one cannot help but wonder why certain books—free to be read abroad—should bear an official imprimatur against such reading, in both "Canada and the U.S.A." and who supervises the index?

THE CASE OF JAP ORANGES

Here is a question I would like one of our smart businessmen in Victoria to answer for me.

It is pretty well accepted as fact that the cost of living is higher in Victoria than Vancouver. This is borne out by comparing the price advertised by the leading chain and department stores that carry ads both here and in the Vancouver papers. Practically without exception all the leading items and name brand products, of the same size, make, and quality are anywhere from one, two, to three cents, a can, pound or unit more here in Victoria than Vancouver, on the same day.

The businessmen say, "The difference is the freight between here and Vancouver."

Now then, tell me why it is that a Deep Sea freighter coming from Japan delivers thousands of cases of Japanese oranges here at Victoria, and then continues on to Vancouver to deliver the rest of her cargo of Japanese oranges and instead of our Japanese oranges being cheaper or the same price, they are six cents a case more than Vancouver?

ELGIN NEISH.

HOW SECURE?

Canadians know our land is blessed with all the resources that should make life easy and pleasant for all, yet whilst we enjoy many freedoms, the freedom of allowing big operators, cartels, or monopolies does not synchronize with the best interests of common people.

Many years ago, I heard a Methodist preacher (before 1925 Union) say "The Lord must love the poor people because He made so many of them."

I would sooner believe the sentiments of that Scottish bard whose memory is perpetuated by some of his admirers in Beacon Hill park.

This is what the immortal Rabbin Burns said "Man's inhumanity to man makes countless thousands mourn."

And he was right then and now.

So, why all this blah-blah palavering in wishing customers a happy and prosperous New Year? Why not go one better by doing something about it?

The demand for social security and welfare services not even to aged alone, but in all walks of life, even the adolescents looking for their first job was never greater.

We have had various Russian delegations over here to convince them, if possible, of the superiority of our Democratic system over Communism, and I wonder what they report on their return.

With plugged up storage facilities throughout our dominion and virtually little or no grain moving, many other produce costs so high and out of line with competition for sale to importing countries, how really secure are we?

H. WYER.

FINE BUT NOT NADY

Why, we wondered at a party recently, are the motor fires in Victoria seemingly so illogical.

For a man who has had a few drinks, yet may be driving with extra caution—fine $250. Fair enough, he should not drive.

But for the most dangerous, reckless action a driver can be capable of, namely ignoring a stop sign or red light—fine $35.

Can anyone explain?

SUBSCRIBER.

TV OR NOT . . .

In your paper of late there have appeared several news reports concerning a proposed television station for Victoria. The two contending local radio stations, have now been joined by a third radio station CKNW of New Westminster.

If the contributions to date of the three stations to radio broadcasting can be taken as a criterion, Victoria has little to hope for in the way of television fare from any one of them, should one of them be lucky enough to obtain an operating permit for television. In radio they have all proven themselves capable only of saturating the air waves with an excess of the grossest commercialism, a capacity which by no stretch of the imagination fits them to enter the yet unsullied video field in Victoria.

It is apparent from the repeated affirmations of at least two of the contenders that the establishment of a local television outlet on Channel 6 will very likely spoil the reception at present enjoyed locally on Channel 5 (KING-TV, Seattle) and possibly on Channel 4 (KOMO-TV, Seattle).

Since Channels 5 and 4 already provide many excellent and up to date telecasts for Victorians, the very first basis of any submission for operating rights for a Victoria TV station should be nothing less than a flat guarantee from prospective operators that Channel 6 will not interfere with reception from Channels 5 and 4.

Victorians are already favored with superior television reception insofar as most of the rest of Canada is concerned. Why should this distinct advantage be jeopardized by the doubtful prospect of one local station which at best could be only a poor alternative to what is now available? Admittedly some of the programs now featured on Channels 5 and 4 might conceivably be shown on Channel 6, but only after they were dated and of something less than original value.

To the argument that local news and special events would be better served by a local TV station, it should be noted that a seemingly adequate coverage of such news and events is already provided by Channel 2 (CBUT) from Vancouver. This CBUT service could quite possibly be extended should local need demand it.

Getting the Best for the Least

BY JOHN BIRD, From Ottawa

THE temptation was to linger beside the "Doodling Machine" for testing ball point pens or to play with the "Sigger Slipper Tester" for trying out waxes for floors. But chief Jack Lucas and his aides at the public works testing laboratory did succeed in interesting me in the more hum-drum business of examining concrete and the materials that go into it. In the advance briefing before I went to the lab at Tunney's Pasture, chief engineer Gerald Williams of the engineering development branch drove some simple facts into my unscientific head.

For example public works is concerned with building and construction from Akavik, which is now being transplanted, to the St. Lawrence Seaway which (we hope) will last for centuries.

Throughout much of Canada, concrete is asked to take severe freezing followed by thawing. In northern tidal waters a wharf must be able to withstand being thawed out twice a day as the tide rises, only to be frozen again when it falls. That is an extreme, but not unusual case. Even in the St. Lawrence "banana belt," concrete must be able to stand clime punishment.

In charge of the lab's physical section is brawny, dark-haired B. F. Cummings, a football fan who looks like a Big Four tackle. He showed me piles of crushed rock for concrete from various pits in the St. Lawrence seaway area, then led me to the automatic freezer where they test concrete slabs, 16 inches by four by three, called "beams."

REAL PUNISHMENT

By means of "dry ice" (made from carbon dioxide gas) the concrete is frozen to zero, then thawed out in water at 40 deg. F., eight times a day. That's real punishment.

In a compression tester, sample cylinders of concrete are put under pressures as high as 300,000 pounds to see how they stand up under weight.

But the lab also has a device for testing concrete without breaking it up—very useful for use in the field. As I now learned, sound will pass through good concrete quicker than it will pass through poor stuff. A sonoscope apparatus can measure the speed of sound passing through concrete up to 40 feet in depth.

Possibly more saving of taxpayers' dollars is involved in the physical section and the soils mechanics section under M. Lebel, but I confess that my own rubber neck extended most in wonder at the chemical section, under N. E. Laycraft. It is full of artful dodges.

In a paint job, only one dollar will go out for paint as against anything from two to four dollars spent for applying it. Therefore poor paint is poor economy. Well, the chemical section has a revolving cylinder device in which panels of paint are alternately exposed to light, imitating sunshine, then drenched as in an all-night rain, then dried out again, and so on—just to see how they stand up.

Each different type of job requires a different kind of paint. For example, for painting boilers, you need a paint which won't crack as the boiler expands or contracts.

Assistant Bill Ireland showed me the the dodge for testing this. You paint metal panels, bend them uniformly, then examine them through a bifocal microscope which looks like a glorified pair of birdwatcher's glasses.

I respectfully peered at a sort of Sing Sing death-chamber device for testing electricians' gloves, used for installing or repairing live wires in places where you cannot shut off the current, such as hospitals. A class one glove should stand up to 10,000 volts without dangerous leakage; a class three must take 30,000 volts. I did not offer to test either.

HEEL TEST

M. B. D. (Barney) Wilkins showed me the wax tester, developed as a result of accidents in the Pentagon building, pride of the "brass" in Washington, D.C. It looks simple: just a pendulum with a detachable imitation of a human shoe-heel. When this is let fall upon a sample waxed surface, the length of the skid is measured and shown by a pointer. You can play with it on a ballroom floor, if the band leader permits.

Floor waxes have different amounts of colloidal silica (i.e. microscopically fine powder) in them to reduce slipping, but too much silica leads to "scuffing." Too little leads, well, to the sitzmark that you and I have performed on a waxed floor, without skids. Accidents cost money, not to mention human dignity.

Mere figures do not tell the whole tale of the usefulness of the PW testing lab to its own and other departments, because one test may be elaborate, another routine. Still, a great increase is shown since the lab which handled 100 new samples a month in 1946-47, at war's end, was handling 560 a month in the past year.

Stalemate

White, the moon
And white the earth,
In a pale and frozen
Winter dearth,
Blue, the night
And brittle-still,
Where hard, bright stars
Blink clear and chill.
Beneath the snow
And in the ground,
Life is locked
Like muted sound . . .
And springing warmth
And pulse are lost,
When even whippers
Turn to frost.

LORRAINE VERNON.

Big Rock Candy Mountain

I've been looking at a picture of France's new man of the moment, Pierre Poulade, and whistling a hobo song.

Mr. Poulade, by the brief reports that came out of the recent French elections, is the anti-tax man of all anti-tax men. I have avoided research on him, because I don't want to destroy my impression that he's against taxes on principle. That's my boy. He's the sage whose philosophy I want to study, just so long as the philosophy is what I think it may be.

To me it's a sort of Big Rock Candy Mountain where handouts grow on bushes, near the birds and the bees and the cigarette trees beside the rock in rye springs. If Mr. Poulade will only tell me how to live abundantly without working or paying for anything, I'll be with him a hundred per cent.

It isn't a new theme—this how to get by without taxes. I've heard it time and again expressed in private and in public. One of the most forthright statements that reached me on the question came from a small group of men who live in B.C.'s wilderness.

DIDN'T LIKE IT

During the war years they had their attention directed to a pretty heavy income tax the country said it needed to pay for its effort. The small group of men discussed the question, came to the conclusion that income tax was a bad thing and voted against it. So they just contracted out of any obligation to pay by not having any income, or at least not listing it. Like Mr. Poulade, they were against taxes.

As a spectator of civic and municipal affairs for far too long, I believe councils are against taxes too. That's the impression they give not only at budget time, but whenever a chance arises to put the bite on senior governments.

If a council can make higher authorities pick up the tab for a piece of work, that's wonderful. The local citizens are happy as kids on Christmas morning and for just about the same reason. They've retained a belief in Santa Claus.

Of course somebody has to pay when the senior governments pick up the tabs, but who is it? Only a bunch of taxpayers. Taxpayers, as everybody should know, live east of the Rockies, mainly in Ontario.

WHOSE BRIDGE?

People like those are the ones who ought to pay for a new Point Ellice bridge, according to one of our aldermen. What right, after all, has a man in Toronto to escape payment when almost any year he may visit Victoria and want to walk over Point Ellice bridge? Yessir, says this alderman, let's just close that bridge until the man in Toronto pays his taxes to build a new one. That way, we in Victoria ought to be able to get away from the fair dab of taxes that a new bridge would cost if it weren't financed out of land sales.

The alderman seems to be against taxes on principle. And a good thing. If a man didn't pay taxes, he'd be able to save a little money and probably be able to take a trip to Europe or somewhere. Might even get to France and study this anti-tax proposition first hand.

Of course it may be a little rough on a government if its people don't pay taxes. Not that such a government would necessarily be without funds. It could always borrow, for a while anyhow. And even if that course created debt, there are ways of concealing that, too.

Some governments reduce taxes and increase debt. Some increase taxes and lower debt. Some can increase taxes and increase debt at the same time. But the smart one is the government that can increase taxes, increase debt and convince the public that it's lowering debt and lowering taxes while that process is going on.

Impossible, you say? Well, now, have you been listening to the B.C. Minister of Finance lately?

YOUR HEALTH

People Who Do Not Understand

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

Most of the few bitter letters I get are from people who evidently cannot read well or who were so upset at what they read that they could not understand it clearly. They were somewhat like a girl who, when she reads a very disturbing letter from her beau, has her eyes so full of tears that she cannot see exactly what he says.

To illustrate: A correspondent just accused me angrily of telling the relatives of psychotic persons that they have no right to marry. I am sure I never said that and I never will say it. Skilled human geneticists never tell couples with insane or epileptic relatives that they must not marry; all they say is that if they marry and have children, one in two, or one in four, or one in fifty of these children are likely to be paralyzed or insane or blind or occasionally convulsed. Then it is up to the couple to decide whether they want to run that amount of risk of bringing defective children into the world. Some will go ahead and take the risk, while others won't.

It is hard to understand why another group of persons recently accused me of having said that epileptics commonly go insane. I certainly could not have said that, because it is not true. What I probably said was that one in four of 99 epileptics I have seen in the last few years told me he (or she) had a relative who had been at times depressed. I may have said, also, that I have found that if an epileptic has four children, one of them is likely at times to be somewhat depressed. This is not an accusation or a libel: It is just a summing-up of what my patients told me.

TO PUBLISH HISTORIES

Another thing that people accuse me of having said is that if one has inherited a tendency to psychosis from some ancestor he must go insane. I never said that and I never will, because it is not true. I probably said that often I marvel that a person who has a history of insanity even in both his father's and his mother's stocks is as good and sane and kindly and sensible as he is. I plan some day to publish dozens of brief histories of persons with such a bad ancestry who either seemed to have got off scot-free, or else inherited just a bunch of nerves, or a violent temper, or a great anxiety about health.

LIBERACE THE MOST DRESSED, THAT IS

LONDON (Reuters)—The New Year issue of the magazine "Tailor and Cutter," arbiter of British men's fashions, nominated Liberace as "Man of the Year" and then found itself stumped for a title for him.

The magazine's editor rejected "world's best-dressed man," then finally hit upon the title which he picked, "world's most dressed man."

Night Classes Offer Low Rates to Groups

Special rates for group registrations will be in effect at Victoria College evening division classes, "Exploring Music" and "Put Your Dollars to Work."

Officials said today groups of five or more persons—office staffs, bridge clubs, societies, for example—could obtain discounts on the course fees.

The music appreciation course, which is given by Hans Gruber, Victoria Symphony conductor, begins Jan. 18 and continues for 10 consecutive Wednesdays.

The course in investments, lectured by heads of various local investment houses, starts Jan. 26 and continues each Thursday thereafter for seven weeks.

Five courses in the nine-course spring schedule offer 25 per cent reductions where both a husband and wife sign up. Officials say a number of such man-and-wife teams are enrolled.

More than 100 persons have so far registered for the night classes. Information can be obtained from the registrar, Victoria College, 2-4931.

NEW YORK (AP)—Ham

Fisher, creator of the comic strip "Joe Palooka," left the bulk of an estimated $2,500,000 estate to his 17-year-old daughter, Wendy. Fisher's will, filed for probate Wednesday, left the legal minimum to his second wife, Marilyn, whom he married in April, 1954. No child has been born to them.

3-YEAR-OLD CLIMBS TO TOP OF BUILDING

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—Three-year-old Anita Anderson was plucked Thursday from the roof of a 46-foot-high building. The youngster climbed a fire escape to the old Bell Telephone building roof with her five-year-old brother, Gregg. Gregg climbed down but Anita remained. A passerby, Charles Baldry, went up the fire escape to the rescue.

Probe Opens January 17

VANCOUVER (CP)—The much-adjudged royal commission investigation into charges of graft and laxity within the Vancouver police department will re-open Jan. 17, it was announced Thursday.

The announcement was made by Vic Dryer, associate commission counsel. Commissioner R. H. Tupper, who opened the hearings last July, was not available for comment.

The Jan. 17 session will be the first since Oct. 12 when lawyer John G. Gould and his client, former police chief Walter Mulligan, dissociated themselves from the hearings after Mr. Tupper announced there would be a "long adjournment."

Mr. Mulligan, placed on leave of absence when the hearings opened, was dismissed from his post Oct. 31, at his own request.

A team of RCMP officers has been checking evidence given to the commission, and will report the results of their investigation.

Heart Conference At Ottawa Jan. 16

OTTAWA (BUP)—A nationwide attack on heart disease will start with a national heart conference here Jan. 16.

Health Minister Paul Martin said Tuesday night that the conference will see impetus given to "Canada's public health and medical research" resources... being marshalled in the attack on the killer disease.

Garbage Landfill Plan Postponed

Preliminary meetings between Topaz area residents and city officials on proposed sanitary landfill garbage disposal have been postponed until March.

Public works chairman Arthur Dowell said Thursday the postponement was made necessary as arrangements could not be completed before he obtains leave of absence, Jan. 15. Meeting had tentatively been set for Jan. 9.

Ald. Dowell will visit Hawaii until Feb. 23. Public works committee has proposed an experimental landfill project for the Topaz Park area. A similar plan was abandoned in 1954 when residents opposed the scheme.

A new citizens' committee is now formed in Topaz Heights and secretary William Young said the group will prepare arguments against the landfill plans.

City health, sanitary and engineering officials support the landfill garbage disposal system. It has been employed in both Esquimalt and Oak Bay.

BUT KELLY COULD CHANGE ALL THAT

No Runs, No Hits, All Errors Hollywood's Royal Union Score

By ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Grace Kelly's friends predicted today that her marriage to the Prince of Monaco will improve the Hollywood's Royal Union Score. Up to now it's been exactly zero.

From Gloria Swanson in the 20s to Rita Hayworth in the 50s, American actresses have not managed permanent relationships with titled husbands from across the sea.

However, Grace's friends think she will reign over the tiny gambling country of Monaco on the French Riviera for life because, for one thing, both the blonde charmer and her fiancé are strong Catholics and do not believe in divorce.

"Besides, Grace is no poor little girl who found film fame and then was snatched up by a prince," a close friend of the actress said. "She already comes from a stable, rich family."

Designer Edith Head, who dressed Grace for her pictures at Paramount studio, added that the staff "is not the type of girl who makes mistakes. When she gets married, you know it will be a happy one."

Miss Swanson took the Marquis Henry de la Falaise de la Couray as her third husband in the '20's.

Pola Negri divorced two titled husbands—Count Mombiska and Prince Serge Mdivani. Mae Murray, the blonde silent star with the beaming lips was married briefly to Serge's brother, David.

But Kelly supporters point out she "is not like those actresses—she is conservative, sensible. And he is one prince who works. He's not a playboy."

The news that Grace would wed the wife-seeking prince dropped like a bomb on the palm tree-studded movie colony Thursday. After the first shock wave was over, reaction ranged from excited surprise to amused hopes that Miss Kelly will clean up her marriage to the Prince up the antique casino in Monte Carlo will improve the Hollywood's Royal Union Score.

Director Alfred Hitchcock, who made Grace a star in "Dial M for Murder," observed that "marrying a prince is in line with Grace's profession."

"She has bounced around with the ease of a girl on the trapeze," the witty director said. "Whether the platform on which she has landed is too narrow—I don't know."

Alec Guinness, Grace's co-star on "The Swan," quipped he hopes he'll "get free chips" at Monte Carlo. In "The Swan," Grace plays a princess—a fairy tale she made come true in real life.

Her other recent co-stars were "surprised and delighted." William Holden said "Grace is already a princess." Bing Crosby

Duncan Board Sets School Priorities

DUNCAN—Board of Cowichan School District 65 on Thursday gave a secondary school to be built in the vicinity of Cobble Hill top priority in its $660,000 building program for 1956.

It will be followed by a three-room elementary school at Tansor, one-room addition at Sahlam, two rooms at Glenora, and a one-room addition at Westholme. Other projects, including a six-room elementary school in Duncan, remain on the agenda.

John Homer, serving his second full term on the board, was selected as chairman of the board for the ensuing year. He succeeds George Bonner, who was defeated Dec. 17 in the first general election ever held in the

TRUSTEES RE-ELECT CHAIRMAN

LADYSMITH—Trustee R. J. "Bob" Edwards of Ladysmith was re-elected chairman of the District 67 (Ladysmith) school board by acclamation at the inaugural meeting of the board Wednesday evening.

Membership of the board remained unchanged from 1955 with Trustees Edwards, W. J. Seaton and Percy Wilcox representing Ladysmith, Trustees A. E. Beasley and Mrs. Dorothy McBride representing Chemainus and the northern portion of North Cowichan Municipality. Trustee Alex Smith representing North Oyster and Trustee Ray Chamberlin, Saltair.

Trustees Seaton, Beasley and Chamberlin all were returned by acclamation last month. Trustee Seaton announced arrangements are now complete for the official opening of the new elementary school building Jan. 13.

The ceremony will be conducted by Education Minister Ray Wilton, and the public will be invited to inspect the new building.

For the benefit of those unable to attend during the afternoon, the building will be kept open from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.

The opening ceremony will begin at 2:30 p.m. in the sports activities room. Special guests will include representatives of the department of education, Reeve C. A. P. Murison of North Cowichan, and Mayor Len Ryan of Ladysmith.

Tea will be served during the afternoon by members of the social committee of the Ladysmith PTA under the chairmanship of Mrs. G. Philip. Trustee Smith and secretary-treasurer R. W. Owendon were congratulated by the board on their election as chairman and secretary respectively of the Vancouver Island Branch of the B.C. Trustees' Association.

30-Day Sentence Suspended for Island Driver

NANAIMO—In police court, Thursday, Richard L. Brandback, Fanny Bay, was given a 30-day suspended sentence and charged $450 costs by Magistrate Lionel Beevor-Potts for driving a motor vehicle Oct. 9 while disqualified.

Brandback pleaded guilty Dec. 23. He was remanded for sentence when Arthur M. Pratt testified that he had been driving Brandback's car Oct. 9 and that the accused had only steered the car for 100 feet while he pushed because the motor stalled.

The charge arose out of an accident in which Pratt, a Union Bay logger, was severely injured. When Brandback's car stalled, Pratt guided the car of another motorist against the bumper of the stalled car. When both started to move, Pratt leaped for the running board of the Brandback car but missed his footing, fell, and fractured his skull.

Island Fisheries Expert Fears Power Schemes Threaten Salmon

OTTAWA (CP)—A British Columbia fisheries scientist said Thursday the demand for dams and other industrial development on the salmon rivers of the Pacific coast poses a growing threat to that great fishery.

Scientists are working on ways to save the salmon, Dr. A. W. H. Needler, director of the Pacific biological station, told the annual meeting of the fisheries research board. But he added:

"There is no prospect in view of preventing altogether the damage caused by dams on salmon rivers and the work of the scientists must not be interpreted as making such dams possible without serious loss to the fisheries. Most difficult problem, he said, is to guide young salmon past obstructions to their down-stream

High School Opening Set For Jan. 27

NANAIMO—The city's new school building, the $640,000 Woodlands Junior High School, will be formally opened Jan. 27 by Education Minister Ray Wilton.

Work on this building started almost a year ago. It is the first of two junior high schools planned in Nanaimo's $1,900,000 school building program, under way during the past two years. The John Barsby Junior High School in Harewood and additions to schools in Departure Bay, North Cedar and Chase River are to be completed before the program is fulfilled.

There are presently 4,200 pupils enrolled in district schools. The building program is expected to take care of an average annual increase of 200 pupils per year.

POST OFFICE OPENS FEB. 3 IN NANAIMO

NANAIMO—Federal Fisheries Minister James Sinclair will visit Nanaimo Feb. 3 to officiate at the opening of the new Federal Building and Post Office.

Accompanying the minister will be L. L. W. Wells, federal department public works architect for B.C. and the Yukon, and A. E. Catterall, regional superintendent of the post office department.

Heavy Rains Halt Progress On Nanaimo Police Building

NANAIMO—Excavation work on Nanaimo's new police building was brought to a halt before noon Thursday by continuous heavy rain.

Construction site is at the corner of Fitzwilliam and Princes Streets.

The excavation began filling as fast as it was being opened and the working area became a sea of mud.

Bruce Melkie, speaking for A. & B. Construction Company, which has the contract, said:

"The delay is not indefinite. We will install as many pumps as necessary to keep ahead of the water. We expect to resume work Monday morning."

"Several months at least" was as close as he would come to an estimate of the date when the $100,000 building will be completed.

New York Boxing Guild Defies Helfand's Edict

Vote to Move Out of State

NEW YORK (AP)—The Boxing Guild of New York Thursday night defied a ban levelled at it by the New York State Athletic Commission and voted unanimously not to dissolve its membership as ordered by commission chairman Julius Helfand.

Helfand outlawed the guild Dec. 12 and ordered managers to sever their guild membership by Jan. 16 or lose their licenses in the state of New York.

Charles Johnston, president of the parent International Boxing Guild, was present at Thursday night's meeting of the New York group and said:

"We've done nothing wrong. We're ready to fight in New York right now. If he, Helfand, takes our licenses away, we have to go out of town. We'll go anywhere we can get fights. None of us is resigning."

Fifty-four of the 69 members of the New York Guild were present at the special meeting. Twelve others telephoned their decision to the meeting. There was no mention of the other three members, but the decision was described by guild leaders as unanimous.

Helfand Charges Gambling Tie-Up

NEW YORK (AP)—Julius Helfand, chairman of the New York state athletic commission, Thursday blasted a Baltimore boxing promoter as "Frankie Carbo's representative" and said he would investigate to determine if the St. Nicholas promoters are associating with criminals in their planned move to Baltimore, Jan. 23.

Obviously miffed at the Maryland athletic commission, whose chairman, J. Marshall Boone, had promised to support his fight against the Boxing Guild, Helfand said it was most amazing to him that Maryland would permit "the likes of these lies" to promote boxing in their state.

Carbo is a notorious police character with a powerful influence in boxing, according to Helfand. Helfand called a press conference to outline his stand as he dug in for a final fight with the guild, an organization composed mainly of managers.

"I state from the most unimpeachable source that Benny Trotha, one of the Baltimore promoters, is Carbo's representative in the city of Baltimore," said Helfand. "In the last three weeks, previous to this deal moving St. Nicholas' Monday television fights from New York to Baltimore, Frankie Carbo and Benny Magliano, met in the city of Baltimore to engineer the deal."

A's Sign Players

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Kansas City Athletics have announced receipt of four signed player contracts for the 1956 season.

Signed were Tom Saffell, outfielder, and infielders Vic Power, Hector Lopez and Alex George. Power was the Athletics' hitting sensation last year with a .319 mark, second in the American League.

Straths Host Best

Dominion Champs Here on Saturday

Victoria Strathconas have the opportunity Saturday of putting their feet on last year's Canadian soccer champions.

The inactive but willing Straths take on New Westminster Royals at Athletic Park in a Coast Soccer League match and a Strathcona victory will make them 100 per cent better than Royals in the league standings.

Victoria, whose toughest opponent this year has been the weather, has played only two games since last September, losing one and winning one.

Royals started weakly and recorded their first victory in Vancouver Monday.

Victoria manager Charlie Lewis has announced new player positions as coach Willie Hamilton strives for the best possible combination.

Versatile Ken Hibbert, who has played centre forward and inside left, will move back to fullback Saturday, partnering Bill Hope in front of goalie Pete Winter.

Hamilton will be on the solid halfback line with Harold Holroyd and Joe Robbins.

George Wright has returned to the fold and will play his first game of the season at inside right with John Weldon taking over at inside left.

Rangy Tommy Druce will get the starting call at centre forward but may be spelled off by Bill Abbott. On the flanks will be Cedric Robb and Ernie Eastlake.

Game time Saturday is 2.

Bad Timing Throws Meet Into Uproar

GRINDELWALD, Switzerland (AP)—A timing clock failure threw the big Grindelwald international ski tournament into confusion Thursday and produced an angry reaction from the Austrian team after one of the contestants had been displaced from first place in the giant slalom event.

West Germany's Evi Lani was declared the winner after the times of the first 19 starters had been revised on the basis of faulty hand timing when it was discovered that the electric timing device wasn't working.

Austria's 31-year-old champion, Hans Hochleitner, was dropped from an unofficial first place to an official fourth in the revision.

Herbert Heis, coach of the Austrian women's team, notified officials that Austria would not enter next year's competition, but dropped his original demand for a "thorough investigation" of the mixup.

The Austrians did not make a formal protest. Miss Lani, 22, was given the official time of 1:50.5 after having been listed unofficially at 2:04.8.

Both Piggett and coach Frank Boucher had praise for Brandon.

"The great ovals we receive from the fans has been tremendous. And that can mean a lot to a club that is losing so many games by one-goal margins," said Boucher.

Regals are in the cellar of the five-team WHL prairie division. But Piggett and Boucher have both stated they are planning to strengthen the team's roster if support warrants it. Boucher has said he is sure the Regals can move up to a playoff berth.

However, the presence of professional hockey in Brandon is worrying some officials of the Big Six intermediate league.

Bill Wilton, president of Minnedosa Jets, said he was afraid it would "finish the Big Six. If not this year then next year."

"We are getting good crowds at Minnedosa but the towns around us are bound to go to Brandon to see the pros in action... as a matter of fact I'd be there too if I didn't have a game to attend in Minnedosa."

Bing Jukes, coach of the intermediate Brandon Wheat Kings, said he liked the idea of pro hockey but wanted the intermediate league to continue.

Cougar-Royal Meeting Crucial to Both Clubs

TYPICAL TROTTER TOMFOOLERY

Guilty of a double dribble, but not the penalty-bringing type, is Herman Taylor of the Harlem Globetrotters, who will display such tricks when Trotters play the House of David at Central Junior High School gym, Jan. 14.

Hoop History Goes On Revue

Shades of the past will be raised tonight to give Victorians a nostalgic glimpse of the city's top basketball players of former years.

The aging, but still agile All-Time Greats, players who graduated from Victoria High School and then went on to play with Canadian championship teams, will meet this year's Victoria High School Totems in their annual game at the high school gym at 8:30.

The old-timers, who played for the Victoria Blue Ribbons and Victoria Dominions, both Dominion champs, include Art and Chuck Chapman, Busher Jackson, Porky Andrews, Ian and Alex McKeachie, Hank Rowe, Doug Peden, Ollie Goldsmith, Red Martin and Claude Sluggitt.

Preliminary game at 7:30 will be between Vic High juniors and First United juniors.

To this list must be added Cary Middlecott, the Masters champion, and off his play here Thursday, Tommy Bolt, the Los Angeles Open victor in 1952.

Bolt shot a 65 in the pro-amateur celebrity event, a record for the revamped course.

Littler, the young pro from Palm Springs, won the main event last year over much the same type of course in 276, which many believe may be hard to match this time.

HOGAN, MANGRUM WITH 71 Lloyd Mangrum, on a comeback with a lengthy layoff, toured the course in 74 Thursday.

Ben Hogan also played in the pro-am. It was more of a social occasion for Ben and he turned in a creditable 74. He will not play in the 72-hole tournament proper.

Far from overlooked in pre-shooting is Mike Souchak, the powerful young man who set a PGA tournament record with 257 at San Antonio last year and went on to win the rich Houston Open a week later.

Non-Title Bout BOSTON (AP)—Lightweight champion Wallace (Bud) Smith and Tony DeMarco, ex-welterweight, will meet in a 10-round non-title fight Feb. 8 at Boston Garden, it was announced Thursday night.

The outing will be Smith's first since he retained his crown against Jimmy Carter last October.

Referee Dave Pye was a pillar of patience Thursday night at Victoria Balmoor for a while.

As wrestling referee, Pye allowed The Mighty Ursus to choke and goe in his mat with Leo Numa. But Pye was darned if he was going to let Ursus get away with throttling Numa with a towel.

While Numa was carried to the dressing room in a breathless state, Pye disqualified Ursus, awarding the match to poor little (249 lbs.) Numa.

Millie Stafford stalked and stomped Edith Wade, outstitching the ring but and they will meet in a winner-take-all rematch next week.

In the opener, Tiger Joe Tomaseo and Gerry Mains fought to a draw.

LOS ANGELES—Lou Filini, 147½, Los Angeles, stopped Jimmy Sweet, 143½, Houston, 49, Tombstone, 149½, Los Angeles, outpointed Woody Winslow, 151½, Merced, Calif., 150.

Saturday's second division games are Canadian Scottish and Brodie Bakery, meeting at Windsor Park and Dutch Wanderers and Queen's Own Rifles kicking off at Beacon Hill Park.

On Sunday, JBAA will continue its battle for the top spot in the first division, meeting Victoria West at Heywood Ave. Butler Brothers and Duncan will pair off at Beacon Hill Park in a second division game.

All matches start at 2.

'Fat One' for Locals; Long Road Trip Ahead

This is what, in the trade, is called a "fat one."

The hackneyed phrase describes tonight's Western Hockey League game at Memorial Arena between the Cougars and New Westminster Royals.

Those who figure to gorge themselves on victory are the Cougars. Those who need the two points to escape hunger are the Royals.

Currently two points ahead of the Royals and with a game in hand, the Cougars can open daylight between themselves and their nearest pursuers and at the same time hope to pick up ground of the divisional leaders, Vancouver Canucks.

Wintess in their last three games, the Royals are at the cross roads of again attempting to become a contender for western honors, or slipping into a position whereby they may become vulnerable prey for the Seattle Americans in Seattle's bid to escape the cellar.

MANY FACETS The situation is compounded for both Cougars and Royals as the Americans play at Vancouver tonight and will be shooting for four points before they start their second prairie trip next week.

A double New Westminster loss and two Seattle wins would leave the Americans two points out of third place.

Suffice to say, the Royals can't afford that possibility starting here tonight.

HEAVY SCHEDULE And neither can the Cougars afford a defeat as they host Vancouver here Tuesday and start a rugged grind that will see them play seven games away from home (five on the Prairies) before again returning home.

Cougars will have Skip Teal back in uniform tonight, but Ray Ceresino will not dress.

Teal has recovered from a leg injury and will play left wing on a line with centre Don Chupka and winger Paul Strassci.

Ceresino, injured in last Friday's game against Seattle, is still troubled by a painful Charlie-horse.

OLSON CONFIDENT Coach Eddie Olson, pleased with recent performances of the team, will play centre between Wayne Brown and Jim Robertson.

"I think we've shaken ourselves out of the slump we had," Olson said, "and we'll be shooting for four victories before we hit the Prairies."

Olson went further and suggested he wouldn't be satisfied with less than three victories on the Prairies.

"But this is the big one," he said of tonight's game.

"It's the one we want; then we'll play the rest, one at a time."

The "fat one" starts at 8:30.

IGNORES CLAMOR

Queen Mother Enters Horses in National

LONDON (AP)—Queen Mother Elizabeth Thursday gave a straight answer to critics of the Royal Family's love of horse racing and steeplechasing by entering two horses for the Grand National steeplechase March 24.

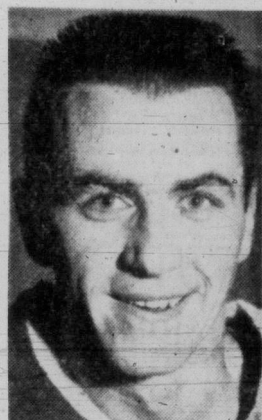

The royal-owned MAs-Tu-Vu and Devon Loch are among 16 nominees for the four-mile, 856-yard, 30-jump Aintree grind—the world's toughest steeplechase.

Some animal societies and religious organizations have criticized Queen Elizabeth, Queen Mother, Elizabeth and Princess Margaret for their keen interest in horse racing.

Four horses were killed or destroyed after the 1954 race. A public outcry followed—with charges that the National steeplechase is cruel to animals.

The Royal Family was dragged into the argument.

But Queen Mother Elizabeth has ignored it all and plans to try and win the 110th running of the big race.

Nashua Given Top Weight For Handicap

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Nashua Thursday was assigned top weight of 127 pounds for the $100,000 added Widener Handicap at Hialeah Feb. 18—but the horse of the year for 1955 may wind up carrying 130 pounds.

In issuing his weights for the Widener, Charles J. McLennan, Hialeah's director of racing, said:

"Nashua never has raced in a handicap, and if he wins the $50,000 McLennan on Feb. 4, he'll have to carry 130 pounds instead of 127 in the Widener. Winners of $25,000 after publication of the Widener weights pick up a three-pound penalty."

DUTCHMEN SCHEDULED PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (CP)—The Canadian Olympic hockey team, Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen, winners of the Allan Cup, will play two matches against the Czechoslovak "B" team in Prague Jan. 18 and 19, the Czechoslovak news agency Ceteke said Thursday.

What Russia's Future Atomic Aircraft May Look Like

WORLD WARNING GIVEN

Following on heels of official warning in U.S. that West can expect Russia to perfect intercontinental missile within six years, Soviet magazine published above illustration of what Russian atomic aircraft of future may look like.

U.S. Speeds Program On Guided Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower reported on Thursday that the United States has speeded up its pace in the race to develop continent-to-continent missiles before Russia does. Such missiles could be armed with hydrogen warheads.

The president said, in his State of the Union message, that "the development of long-range missiles has been on an accelerated basis for some time."

Senator Henry Jackson, (Dem., Wash.), chairman of the Senate House committee on atomic energy, said Wednesday "there is reason to believe" that Russia already may have a supersonic missile capable of delivering a hydrogen explosive on a target 1,500 miles away.

Such a mid-range missile would be a step forward in development of the intercontinental ballistic missile of 5,000-mile range.

While Eisenhower's statement seemed related to Jackson's comment, the president actually completed work on his State of the Union message last Tuesday.

WATCH THAT DIET

3 Live as Cheaply As Dozens Did Once

By KITTY DIXON

"How cheaply can a Victoria family live, yet follow a nutritionally adequate diet?" The question has been sparked by strained budgets and festive season over-indulgence and re-livened by a Nova Scotia Health Department claim that a family of 10 can live in that province on $34 a week.

Mrs. Gordon Radford, local housewife, finds she can feed three—herself, husband and young son—on $60 a month; but many families of the same size spend double that sum on food. The Radford monthly budget allows $10 for milk, $20 for meat and $30 for groceries. A typical menu for the day would include:

Breakfast: Cereal, toast and jam, coffee or milk.
Lunch: Cream soup, sandwich (e.g., egg or salmon), milk pudding, tea or milk.

INDIGESTION

Read what good cook says:

"I enjoy cooking fancy dishes, but after eating I had gas, acid indigestion or heartburn. A friend suggested Rennie. Now I suck a Rennie or two when needed, and eat what I like," writes Mrs. E. Crosby, Toronto.

When food disagrees, or you overeat, Digestif Rennie Tablets bring quick relief from sour, upset stomach or indigestion. An English remedy, popular the world over—only 35¢.

Royal Theatre-CJVI Talent Parade first prize winner Thursday night was 15-year-old Victoria High School student Gary Howard. He won $100 for a sax rendition of "Twelfth Street Rag." Second prize winner was Johnny Allan, 13, St. Louis College, who won $50 when he sang "He."

the one compiled in Nova Scotia, because food prices are higher on the Pacific coast.

Using a nutritionally adequate diet as a guide, the bureau prices foods in various centres of the province. Then, with the diet and prices, compiles a low-cost food budget.

"The budget is used by the department of health and nutrition, which, through local health units, helps families on small budgets stretch their food allowances. But any B.C. family, regardless of income, can make use of the data by writing to its local health unit."

The Radford's food bill compares favorably with British Columbia's bureau of economics and statistics' estimate that a family of two adults and three children can eat enough on $70 to $80 a month. The B.C. budget estimate is higher than on shopping and ways to estimate, according to your own particular family. Just what food costs should be.

Wise Victoria housewives—many on small incomes—stick fairly close to a family diet in order to hold their food bills to a minimum. Carefully spent, their money buys wholesome food that is on a nutritional par with food bought by those who purchase on impulse without budget planning. Menus reveal a uniform, balanced diet and general good health is the result.

"It's all a matter of careful budgeting, choosing wholesome, yet inexpensive food, and cooking without waste," say the Radfords. Gordon buys the food and Noreen does the planning and cooking. They are building a new home and find their low food bill a great help.

Ex-MLA Purchases 200 Shares In World's Tallest Totem Pole

Share subscriptions for the world's tallest totem pole, sponsored by the Times, jumped to $80 Thursday, for net proceeds of $430.

Heading the list was J. Gordon Gibson, former MLA for Lillooet, who is a logging expert, with $100 for 200 shares. Another 40 shares went to families and persons subscribing for single shares.

This added to the first day's total of 620.

Mr. Gibson, with his subscription, commented on the project which will employ Chief Mungo Martin, his son David, and Henry Hunt for three months.

He said:

"I spent 10 years of my early life working with the Ahousat Indian tribe on the west coast of Vancouver Island. I have found them to be a fine race of people and sincerely feel that a tribute of this nature to them as pioneers of this country is very appropriate."

Today's shareholder acknowledgements:

DEAD LETTER TOTAL HERE HITS 30,000

The yearly harvest of undeliverable mail today is being reaped by the Victoria post office with about 30,000 items expected to be sent to the dead letter office in Vancouver within the next week.

Most are Christmas cards; a few parcels.

Reason for the heavy pile-up of cards, said a postal spokesman, is that persons address them casually without taking the trouble to check addresses. So they bounce back.

With parcels, which for one reason or another can't be delivered, a card is sent the sender to advise him.

The Vancouver post office handles the dead mail from the four western provinces. All dead letters are kept a year. Parcels are then sold at auction.

Murder Appeal Heads 41 Cases To Be Heard

Court Opens Sittings Here Next Tuesday

The appeal of Robert Graham, a husky, 24-year-old miner, convicted of murder last month at Vancouver, heads a list of 41 criminal cases to be heard by the B.C. Court of Appeal opening in Victoria next Tuesday.

Graham was sentenced to be hanged after being convicted of killing William Holman in a street brawl. Holman was kicked to death during a street fight near Kitsilano Beach on Aug. 21.

Holman died on the way to hospital after suffering head injuries in the fight.

Graham in his appeal will be represented by lawyer John S. Burton.

Among other criminal cases to be heard is the appeal of Crown Zellerbach Co. and Bartram Paper Products Ltd., convicted under the federal Anti-Combines Act. The two companies, as well as nine other firms, were found guilty of attempting to restrict trade with regard to paper products.

The trial judge, Mr. Justice A. M. Manson, sentenced Crown Zellerbach to a fine of $8,000 and Bartram Products to a fine of $7,000.

The two companies are appealing the conviction on the grounds the trial judge should not have made available to the Crown some documents which were used as evidence against them.

Other cases include charges of robbery with violence, theft, and rape.

COURT REFEETING
Peter G. Strysen and Peter Salko will appeal a conviction of having unlawfully in their possession materials that they knew were adapted and intended for use in making counterfeit money.

The two men were tried before Mr. Justice J. B. Boyd in Vancouver and sentenced on November 30 to two years in the penitentiary.

Strait Ferry Meeting Set. Next Monday

A decision will be made next Monday on whether Washington State Ferries will resume its ferry service next summer between Port Angeles and Victoria.

The decision will be taken at a meeting of the Washington State toll bridge authority under which the ferry company operates.

It is believed that the toll bridge authority will decide to put the Kalakala back on the run as it did last year, but no definite intimation is yet available.

"The ferry is just as important to Port Angeles as it is to Victoria," G. C. Leverett, president of Port Angeles Chamber of Commerce, told the Times today.

A spokesman for the toll bridge authority said:

"We hope to make a definite decision at next Monday's meeting."

Hector Crombie, secretary-manager of Victoria Chamber of Commerce, said the meeting is concerned with internal policies so there will be no delegation from Victoria.

"The toll bridge authority knows how anxious we are in this matter and the Port Angeles Chamber of Commerce has pledged its full support."

COMMITTEE MEETING OPENED TO REPORTERS AT CITY HALL

The first Victoria council committee meeting of 1956, held this morning, was a significant one—the press was invited to attend.

Ald. Robert Macmillan, new chairman of parks, who during 1955 made repeated assaults on the 1954 procedure (secretly) by-law which barred reporters from committee sessions, said: "We have no secrets."

Although the by-law is still on the books, outsiders can be invited at the discretion of the committee members. Both Ald. Don Smith and Ald. Mrs. Lily Wilson agreed to the open meeting.

Mayor Percy Scurreh put himself on record in his inaugural address as opposing "certain sections" of the procedure by-law which was inaugurated by former mayor C. L. Harrison.

City Police Asking $29,000 Increase

Parity With Vancouver Force To Get 'Serious Consideration'

Victoria Police Federal Union (TLC), today asked for an overall $29,000 yearly wage boost which would bring salaries up to that of Vancouver police.

The boost would mean an increase of 8.3 per cent, or $26 monthly—for a first-class constable.

Two other main requests were a 40-hour week for inspectors and pay for acting senior rank.

The wage contract requests were presented to police commission at a closed meeting.

Mayor Percy Scurreh, who also serves as chairman of the three-man police commission, said following the meeting it is too early to say what the commission reaction will be.

He said requests will receive serious consideration but added: "I can't see a raise of $26 a month."

The proposed increases would mean boosts for all members of the force.

Sergeants would increase from $360 to $383; first-class constables from $322.94 to $349; second-class constables from $292.30 to $321; third-class constables from $28.60 to $286, and officers on probation from $249.09 to $260.

44-HOUR WEEK

Union president Lorne Shandley said Victoria policemen are also paid less than West Vancouver and New Westminster force members.

He said inspectors of police now work a 44-hour week, while constables and all other staff members have a 40-hour week.

The pay requests for acting senior rank would mean that an increase in wages would start from the first day.

ONE-MONTH HOLIDAY

In the past officers acting in a senior position have had to work in that position for 14 days before they actually received an increase in pay.

Police are also asking for a one-month yearly holiday after 30 years of service. The present holiday system allows for a maximum of three weeks after 10 years of service.

Another request is that time allowed for appearance in court be increased from two to three hours.

Goldstream, Thetis Parks Decision Asked

City parks committee wants the B.C. government to make up its mind whether it will assume control of Thetis Lake and Goldstream Parks.

Ald. Don Smith was named by the committee today to meet with government officials to determine policy with regard to the two city-owned parks.

If council ratifies the committee decision, Ald. Smith will be accompanied by Ald. Mrs. Lily Wilson and Ald. Robert Macmillan, chairman of parks.

At a City Hall meeting today the newly-established parks committee listed the problem of Thetis and Goldstream development as one of the major issues facing the city this year.

AGREED ONCE

Ald. Macmillan said that four years ago the province had agreed to assume control of the Goldstream Park area and develop it as a Class A Provincial Park.

The deal never materialized. The 1955 council was strongly in favor of selective logging in Thetis Lake Park to finance park improvements. But this matter was tabled for further consideration after a vetoing motion by former mayor Claude Harrison.

ASK THE TIMES

Q.—Are there still peacocks in Beacon Hill Park? Was there at one time a white peacock in the park?—J. P. M.

A.—The answer to both questions is yes. Regarding the white peacock, records seem to be lacking as to whether it was a true albino or was bred white though it is thought it was so bred. However, like the venerable Rocky Mountain goat and the stately bison (buffaloes) which so interested most of the visitors to Beacon Hill it passed into history with the years.

Q.—Will you please tell me where one should write to inquire about employment with Eldorado Mines?—B. E. C.

A.—The most direct course probably is to write to the mine manager at Port Radium, N.W.T., and to the mine manager at Eldorado, Sask.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

Although my admiration for the female-type mind has remained constant—and strong—throughout the years, it sometimes needs a re-infusion of current examples to hit on all cylinders.

Thus I am glad to report such a re-infusion took place a few days ago, in the course of a radio program with which I am associated, namely, Telophonin on CKDA.

As you may or may not know, the purpose of this program is to allow air-minded constituents a chance to speak their minds on various topics. And the topic under discussion on the program to which I refer was "should husbands be better dressed around the home?"

I am most happy to tell you the majority of female constituents who phoned said, in effect, leave the old man alone. Do not expect him to come home from a hard day at the office, working his fingers to the bone over a hot typewriter, and get all dressed up just to please his wife.

Let him be comfortable, the female constituents said. Let him wear whatever he wishes.

Of course, they added, he should look neat and tidy and pleasing to the eye. But do not ask him to wear anything he wouldn't wear of his own choice. Just so long as it is something his wife likes, they also added.

If a man doesn't want to shave in the evening when he is staying home, the female constituents said, there is no reason he should other than that it is nice if he would shave for his wife's sake.

Well, I can tell you, I was mightily pleased to have my admiration of the female-type mind thus encouraged. And I hurried home to My Favorite Wife, to tell her what had occurred, and to ask her to please interpret what these females had said.

"It is very simple," MFW explained. "In his own home, man can do no wrong. His rights and privileges are inviolate. Woman was put into this world just to do his bidding, to hang on his every word..."

"Yes, but what I want to know..." I started to say... "Don't interrupt," My Favorite Wife snapped. "As I was saying, woman was put into this world to hang on man's every word, to admire him, to aid him in his constant ambition to be comfortable."

"Man is king of his castle," she said. "In his own home, man can do no wrong."

"Take you, for instance," MFW continued. "You know very well you can do anything you wish to do, as long as it is what I wish you to do."

"That is what all those nice ladies on the radio were saying, don't you understand?" she concluded.

"Yes, dear," I said, starting to loosen my shoe-laces.

"You don't really want to sit around with your SHOES off, do you?" asked My Favorite Wife.

"No, dear," I said.

I yield to nobody—but nobody—in my admiration for the female-type mind.

INFAMOUS PROPELLER PEEKS OUT

Greek freighter Makedonia, towed across North Pacific last month in epic 3,000-mile struggle, today is at Ogden Point loading lumber for U.K. Repairs

Clothing, Camera Stolen From Car

Theft of articles totalling $263 from his car, while parked overnight at Strathcona Hotel parking lot, was reported to city police Thursday by Arthur Leakey, Courtenay.

Police said a camera, two suits, one woman's coat, and a small fire extinguisher were taken.

Entrance to the vehicle was gained by prying open a ventillator window.

SEATTLE AUTHORITY HERE

Totem Art Admired By Museum Director

By TONY DICKASON

Why, Dr. Fuller, are there more women than men in the arts and yet when men enter the fields they rise to the top like cream through skim milk?

President and director of the Seattle Art Museum, Dr. Richard E. Fuller, Yale man, connoisseur, geologist and educator, answered this one today. Said he:

"Men probably have more time, whereas women have duties in the home. When men enter the various art fields they generally make it a life-long profession. So they are bound to be more successful."

The 59-year-old gentleman is the quiet type; not one to give his views away hurriedly. His is the manner observed in persons standing for long periods in front of museum paintings, appreciative or otherwise, but not flamboyantly so.

Dr. Fuller wanted to talk about his museum, while we wanted to talk about Dr. Fuller and his ideas. He seemed mildly amused by this latter stand.

ZACH PROMISING

Here are some of his thoughts which did flower, briefly:

Museum-goers are "knowledgeable" persons. Any trained intelligent observer can enjoy art; those that can't "haven't the ability to see"; Victoria's Jan Zach is "a good man and a promising artist"; artistic appreciations don't necessarily overlap, with some appealing to eye, others to the ear; artists of different schools are not noted for their sympathy to each other.

Artists as judges are often more narrow in their outlook toward art than persons interested in a broader scope of artistic expression; the average artist of calibre is rarely a humorist as he is an egotist; totems as art are "remarkable art forms. It would be a pity to see them die;" of fraudulent old masters, "don't damn them

Two-Car Crash Sends Woman to Hospital

Florence Thompson, 66, 415 Cook, was in good condition at hospital today after receiving a broken rib and other injuries in a two-car crash at Fairfield and Harbinger at about 7:10 p.m. Thursday.

Police said she was a passenger in a car driven by William H. Thompson, which collided with a car proceeding west on Fairfield, driven by Gary James Small, 16.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

In RCMP court today William Lawrence Howard, Hal-don Road, Central Saanich, was fined $10 and $3 costs on a charge of possessing a shotgun which was not permanently plugged.

He was charged following a check in the Sooke area Nov. 2 during duck hunting season by Game Warden Bob Sinclair.

Under game regulations, a shotgun must be permanently plugged so as to hold only three shells, one in the breach and two in the magazine.

Martin MacDonald, 611 Vancouver, was fined $25 or five days in jail when he appeared in city police court today, charged with being unaccompanied by an adult licensee while driving with a learner's licence Dec. 9, on Government.

Fine of $25 or five days in jail was imposed in city police court today on Robert McLacklan, HMCS Naden, when he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving without liability insurance.

Gerald James DeBee, HMCS Abahaskan, was fined $50 or 30 days in jail when he pleaded guilty to city police court today to a charge of consuming liquor in a public place.

Police said he was drinking wine on Broad Street on Oct. 17.

The district marine office has advised mariners that the north side jetty light beacon No. 1, off the westerly extremity of Stevenson Jetty, Fraser River, will be changed from flashing white to flashing green.

Installation of officers for 1956 in St. Mary's Men's Guild, Oak Bay, will take place in the Yale Street hall Thursday, Jan. 12, at 8 p.m.

Frank Hunter will speak on "The Gideons." All men of the parish are invited.

Plea of not guilty was entered in city police court today for Donna Jones, 20, Victoria, charged with obtaining $50 cash from Hudson's Bay Company by means of a worthless cheque Dec. 18.

Magistrate Henry C. Hall remanded her to Jan. 17 for trial and noted that a second charge involving $100 would be dealt with following completion of trial.

Defence counsel is Jack Gatehouse.

Two men received minor injuries when the car in which they were riding crashed into another car and then rolled over on Pat Bay Highway at Piedmont at about 5:05 p.m. Thursday.

Cyril A. Dadds, Prosser Road, Saanichton, and William Whyte, Saanichton, required hospital treatment following the mishap.

Saanichton police said Mr. Dadds was driving north when in collision with a car which had pulled to the side of the road, driven by Charles Kent, Brook-leigh Road.

Third annual meeting of the provincial advisory council of 4-H Club leaders of British Columbia will be held in the parliament buildings here Feb. 15 and 16.

There will be seven delegates from the various regions. Questions pertaining to the 4-H program in B.C. will be discussed.

Dr. Ronald Holtum, N.D., will speak at the initial meeting of a naturopathic health group being formed here Monday at 7:30 p.m. in YWCA dining room.

Mrs. Holtum will give a practical demonstration of preparation of nutritious natural foods, and chairman will be Byron Sheridan. Interested members of the public are invited.

Rev. W. E. Greenhalgh, St. Alban's Church, was elected vice-president of the church's Men's Social Club at a meeting held in the new hall Thursday night. The rest of the executive was elected before Christmas. Following the business session a social evening was conducted. Group plans a box social Jan. 19.

SHOPPING GUIDE

New Farenaceous Tubers Are Now on Sale in Town By PENNY SAVER

Alright, alright! So they're potatoes! But just 'cause they're a standby vegetable for every meal, that doesn't mean that they can't be glamorous. Why, look at their name! That's a good start. All that's needed is a little imagination on the part of the chef. Do you have it?

Brand new potatoes with red skins are 35 cents for three pounds, so treat the family tonight. Add gobs of butter, or a white sauce with fresh peas or carrots. Even plain, ordinary potatoes that have to be peeled can have a touch of the unusual and exotic to them. When you serve 'em try whipping them with your electric beater, and add chopped parsley and/or chopped red or green peppers. It looks good, and tastes even better.

The simplest way to prepare potatoes is to bake 'em, of course. Once they're done, scoop out the centre, whip it with cheese, insert it again and bake a little while longer. Top with butter, and there's a wonderful vegetable serving that will bring shouts for more. French fried potatoes are a favorite. Every one knows how easy they are to prepare, and scalloped ones can make almost a whole meal. Slice them, mix with onions, flour, milk, salt and pepper according to your own taste, and your oven will do the rest. Look in any cook book, and I'm sure you'll come up with ideas to dress up potatoes in ways you've never dreamed of. It can be real fun. Lethbridge potatoes are five pounds for 25 cents, and the Yakima variety costs 59 cents for 10 pounds.

Sweet potatoes, and first cousins, Yams, present interesting possibilities when dinner time rolls around, too. These are tasty boiled, baked, fried, steamed or any way you know how to cook 'em. They're two pounds for 45 cents.

Of course, other vegetables are necessary for a well-balanced and interesting meal, so here are the prices I picked up in town.

Sprouts are 35 cents a pound, and broccoli, 20 cents. A stalk of crisp celery costs 20 cents, while lettuce is 15 cents a head. Carrots are 15 cents a bunch, or two pounds for 35 cents in bulk form. Hothouse tomatoes are 45 cents for two pounds, green onions are 10 cents a bunch, and cabbage is 12 cents a pound.

Turnips are eight cents a pound, and parsnips, a little higher, at two pounds for a quarter. Spinach may be bought in cello bags for 25 cents, or by the pound at 22 cents. Green peppers are 45 cents a pound, and cauliflower costs 40 cents a head. In the citrus fruit department, you'll see Mandarin oranges at two pounds for 33 cents, and naval oranges at 40 or 50 cents a dozen, depending on size. Grapefruit Indian River pink or white variety, costs 25 cents for three. Cooking apples are five pounds for a quarter, and local Wagners are three pounds for the same price.

Deep-Pile Fabrics Fashion Favorites

Fabrics that look and feel like fur are creating interest in the fashion world—particularly this winter these Canadian-made fabrics with the hard-wearing qualities usually associated with synthetic fibres are available for the first time. Since there is a strong demand among Canadian women for the light-toned beige shades in furs, many of the deep-pile fabric coats are in the new blond hues. But besides the myriad shadings in the beige field, the coats also are available in black and several shades of grey.

One advantage of the deep-pile fabrics is their relative lightness, another their comparatively low cost. From the viewpoint of fashion, coats of "Orlon" acrylic fibre lend themselves with equal ease to either the lustrous and sparkle.

Each coat of "Orlon" sold in Canada carries with it a tag with instructions for proper care. Manufacturers recommend treating deep-pile coats in the same way as actual fur, including Holianderizing to keep the lustre and sparkle.

Canadian Stylists to Show New Season Presentations

Members of the Association of Canadian Couturiers will introduce their collection for spring-summer 1956 to the Canadian public in Toronto on Feb. 14, at the Royal York Hotel.

The 18 members of the association, located across Canada from Saint John, N.B., to Vancouver, B.C., will contribute to the collection. Raoul-Jean Fourie, president of the association, said in making the announcement.

"Since the formation of this association early last year our members have looked forward to presenting a collection in Toronto, and this appears to be the appropriate time," he said.

Mr. Fourie added that the association was entertaining offers to show the collection in other Ontario centres and in Montreal and Ottawa, after the Toronto debut. The couturiers will again collaborate with Canadian fibre and fabric producers in presenting a collection entirely Canadian in design and material.

The Association of Canadian Couturiers was formed in 1954 by six Montreal designers as a means of popularizing Canadian haute couture. Since then the group has grown to its present number and has presented successful showings in Montreal, Ottawa, Niagara Falls, Vancouver, New York, Brussels and Belgium.

Members of the association, in addition to M. Fourie, are: Marie Paule, Montreal, vice-president; D'Anjou, Montreal, secretary; Ger-

Resolutions Make Timely Table Topic at Meeting

"New Year's Resolutions" was the table topic presented by Mrs. J. S. Petterson at first meeting of Arbutus Toastmistress Club in the new year. Mrs. M. D. Darling presided and Mrs. E. L. Aubel gave the inspiration.

Mrs. L. F. Rush, toastmistress, proposed a toast to "Better Reading for 1956" and introduced the members and their assignments: Mrs. D. Misner, and impromptu speech; Miss Dorothy Broadfoot, "The Sport of Skating." Readings were given by Mrs. J. G. Patterson from the Bible; Mrs. C. M. Mair, Shakespeare; Mrs. E. J. Aldred, a famous poet; and Mrs. T. Ackerman, Charles Dickens. Mrs. J. R. Pipes gave a lesson on by-laws.

A vote of thanks was given by Mrs. H. E. Ker. Critics were Mrs. T. G. Sewell, Mrs. H. Robinson and Miss Florence Scovell. Mrs. H. Lawrie acted as timer and Mrs. Darling as lexicologist.

Mrs. Pipes as evaluator awarded the Spur to Miss Dorothy Broadfoot and the Oscar to Mrs. Patterson.

Mr. Courtenay is now on the British War Office panel of lecturers, and he has travelled extensively, recently arriving from Singapore. He will speak on "Rival Interests Across the Pacific."

Fashion Spotlight Turns on Sleepwear

Sleep-wear has been hit by a hurricane of fashion changes in the last few seasons. As a result the Canadian woman is reaping a whirlwind of bodice beauty. Sleepwear has moved into the fashion spotlight and it's making the kind of fashion news that once was reserved for the outer silhouette only. Those of you who received some of the new and lovely peignoirs, dusters and pyjamas for Christmas will be most aware of the change.

Perhaps you're asking: "What has brought it about?" A major factor is the introduction of man-made fibres such as nylon with its washability and its infinite variety of weight and fabric finish.

Most of us remember the time when night-gowns always touched our toes and peignoirs swept the floor, while pyjamas were prosaic items designed for warmth and comfort only. Today, however, your night-gown is likely to be the more fashionable waltz length, while "baby-doll" pyjamas have turned a sweetly feminine back on that utility look.

Couple Wed Recently Living Here Following Honeymoon on Mainland

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Bolt, who were married recently in Oak Bay United Church, are making their home in Victoria following a honeymoon trip to Vancouver, Seattle and Mount Baker.

Rev. W. W. McPherson officiated at the ceremony in which Eva Wallace Hayman, daughter of Mrs. W. Mason, 2012 Richmond Avenue, exchanged wedding vows with Roderick Arthur Bolt. Mrs. Vera Barclay played traditional wedding music, and the guest pews were marked with holly and red ribbon.

Given in marriage by her uncle, George Mason, the bride wore a peacock blue princess style dress fashioned with ankle length full skirt, three-quarter length sleeves and bateau neckline. She wore a seed pearl necklace which had belonged to her mother, and carried a mauve orchid bouquet.

Maid of honor and only attendant was the bride's sister, Miss Shirley Mason, who flew from Akivik, N.W.T. for the wedding. She chose an apricot-toned dress styled similarly to the bride's, and wore avocado accessories. Her bouquet was of holly.

Ray Irwin was best man, while Ken Pollock and James Jack acted as ushers.

A reception followed at 907 Richmond Avenue, where George Mason proposed the toast to the bride's future happiness. The four-tier wedding cake which centred the bride's table was topped with holly and flanked by red candles in crystal holders.

For her going-away outfit, the bride wore a pastel multi-striped, fitted suit with navy accessories, a navy feather cloche, and orchid from her bridal bouquet. She completed her outfit with a squirrel stole.

Mr. and Mrs. Bolt are living at 907 Richmond Avenue.

Gas Fitting Regulation Breaches Bring $75 Fines

Five charges of failing to have gas appliances inspected as required and one of not being a licensed gas fitter installing an appliance brought fines totaling $75 or 20 days in jail for Norman Nichols in city police court today.

He was convicted on the lone charge regarding installation and pleaded guilty to the other five.

The charges involved gas appliances in sleeping rooms at 406 Quebec and were dated Dec. 2.

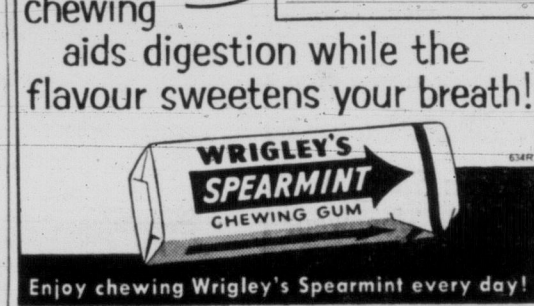

Court was told that an inspection is necessary each year where appliances are situated in sleeping rooms.

The lone charge involved a combination wood-coal gas range which was installed incorrectly and was dangerous. There was defects in valves of some of the other appliances in different rooms, court heard.

Nichols said that all appliances have since been inspected and are all in top working order now.

OUT OUR WAY

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books? Then ask Andy.

Andy, who is a pick, not a person, will answer two questions daily submitted by child readers of Canada and the U.S. Children who submit the questions are selected to answer will receive as prizes, for the main question, either a 16-volume set of "The Children's Hour" or a 30-volume set of "The American People's Encyclopedia." Prizes for the secondary question will be an "American People's Encyclopedia Year Book" or a year's subscription to "Treasure Trails" plus "Andy's Everyday Encyclopedia."

Address your questions to "Ask Andy" Victoria Daily Times, Victoria.

Andy sends a complete 16-volume set of The Children's Hour to Cathy Lou Sharon, aged 9, of Alhambra, Calif. for her question:

What Happens to My Question After it is Sent to the Newspaper?

Let's follow Cathy Lou's letter on its adventures. She wrote her question in clear, readable handwriting. She was careful to include her name, her age and her full address. Then Cathy Lou addressed her letter to Ask Andy in care of her favorite newspaper. She mailed it and her job was done.

Some time later, the postman delivered the letter to the newspaper. There were other letters to Andy in the mail. Someone at the newspaper office put them into a big fat envelope and addressed the bundle to Andy's office. They arrived along with fat envelopes of letters from other newspapers.

At this point, Andy needed some help. All the letters were opened for him. Among them was Cathy Lou's letter. The letters were neatly arranged in folders — one folder for each week for each newspaper. Next came the job Andy loves best. He loves to read his mail and he enjoys every single letter and postcard he gets. Of course he can only answer a few each week in his newspaper column. But you would be surprised at how much of his mail he remembers.

He often says, Why there's a letter from my friend Joe. He wrote to me again only last week. Too bad I couldn't answer the question he asked. But I had already answered it for someone else two weeks ago. Let's see if I can't answer the question Joe has for me this week. After all, he keeps on asking, even though so far I haven't answered a single one specially for him.

Sometimes Andy stops reading to say, My! This fellow is really interested in his question. He really wants to know and he has thought a great deal about the things that interest him. What's more, I think a lot of other people would be interested in his question. So here is one for me to answer this week.

As he reads on, he may find that 20 or so of his friends have asked the same question. Certainly here is something a lot of people are interested to hear about. So, let's answer this popular question. The trouble of course is this. Andy has to pick one letter from 20 or so.

Sometimes things are not so good. Here, says Andy, is a fine question. But the person forgot to put his age. If he is 15, he would not enjoy the books I send to 8-year-olds. If he is only 8, he would not enjoy the books I send to a 15-year-old. So, we must pass his good question by.

There are other reasons why good questions have to be passed by. Some people forgot to include their full addresses. If I chose this question, says Andy, where in the world should I send his books? I don't even know where he lives.

Andy sends a year's subscription to Treasure Trails to Debby Fellow, aged 10, of Cynwyd, Penna., for her question:

Why does the oyster make a pearl?

SHOWER OF SOLID RAIN HITS FIJI ISLANDERS

SUVA, Fiji (CP)—Instead of cats and dogs, it rained pebbles and rocks during a thunderstorm on one of the Fiji Islands in the Pacific. Some of the fragments were large enough to damage the grass-thatched roofs of houses. Experts think the rocks were either swept up by the storm, or that lightning seen by islanders was actually a meteorite exploding.

Driver Convicted Of Criminal Neglect

Magistrate Reserves Sentence,
Questions Whether Fine Adequate

Decision of Magistrate Henry C. Hall on jailing or fining autoist Peter Sweeney, 255 Burnside, will be given in Saanich police court next Thursday.

Sweeney, who was convicted Thursday of criminally negligent driving and causing bodily harm to Robert Russell, 23, of 30 Gorge West, Aug. 27 last, heard the magistrate say it was questionable if a fine would be adequate.

Accused will remain free on bail of $2,000 meanwhile and a probation report will be prepared.

Sweeney was charged following an accident on Gorge Road in which Russell was critically injured when struck by the accused's car as he was standing in a driveway.

(Russell is still in hospital and was reported in good condition today.)

In giving judgment, Magistrate Hall said he was satisfied Sweeney was driving at too high a speed and in a reckless and dangerous manner.

"It was the high and dangerous speed you were going that caused all the injuries," he said.

The magistrate noted that after sideswiping a car about 200 feet from where Russell was standing, Sweeney's car crossed the road, struck the man and then smashed heavily into a house.

The magistrate said the Sweeney car was substantially on the wrong side of the road when the initial accident occurred.

Military Alignments 'Suicidal' Says Tito

CAIRO, Egypt (UPI)—President Tito of Yugoslavia and Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt said Thursday night their countries' refusal to align themselves with world military pacts will help relax international tension.

A joint communique said military pacts lead to "suicidal" entanglements among nations. They confirmed that they have identical views on the basic international questions.

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

By FREEMAN KING
DISTRICT NOTES: A good attendance was noted at the Akela Club meeting Thursday evening at 1034 Johnson Street. Sixers appointed were Edith Dawson, Ruth Bosward, Edna Phillips and Frank Hornsby.

Instruction games were run off and methods of testing Cub Scouts on their work were shown. Camp-fire and mug-up concluded the evening. Next month's session will take the form of a "B.P." stunt, outlining the life of the founder, the late Lord Baden-Powell.

VICTORIA DISTRICT ASSOCIATION will hold its annual meeting and dinner on Jan. 26 at the Monterey Restaurant at 6:45 p.m. Dr. Dave Turner of the B.C. Forest Service will be guest speaker. Tickets will soon be available at headquarters.

THIRD VICTORIA: A Court of honor was held at the home of Scoutmaster George Bennett, 2215 Bowker, on Wednesday evening. Plans for a hike, a week-end camp and an investiture were made. The troop was asked by the cubleaders to supply instructors for the pack.

Plans are under way to hold a "Scout Pageant" in May at the Memorial Arena.

MARIGOLD PACK meeting Wednesday saw executive commissioner Bob Milks invest his wife, Audrey, as a leader in the group.

SALVATION ARMY PACK: At the last meeting an investiture was held at which Donald DeClercq and Colin Bonneau were made Wolf Cubs.

ELKS OWN PACK held a model-making evening on Thursday. Akela Edith Dawson was in charge.

From our founder's writings: "A further way of discovering activities that will appeal to the boys is for the scoutmaster to save his brains by using his ears."

"Red tape and the failure to look at things from the subject's point of view have killed many an enterprise before now, but it is not going to kill our movement, as we want none of it. Boys are critical, and quickly see through the man who does not believe or who has not 'been there'."

OAKLAND "B" PACK: On Tuesday Leslie Keddy, Leonard Creed and Frank Hofhal were invested as Wolf Cubs. Second year stars went to Mike Prout, Stan Keswood, D.

How are the Names of Automatic Telephone Exchanges Selected?

Perhaps you've wondered how the names of automatic telephone exchanges are chosen. Why names such as Lakeview and Mutual? Why not names of local or historical significance? The fact is, in order to provide a uniform, continent-wide basis for present and future telephone planning, it is no longer practical to select names having local or geographical significance.

Nowadays, new exchange names are almost always selected from a carefully prepared list used by the major telephone companies throughout Canada and the United States. Besides adopting new exchange names, all communities participating in this plan must follow a new method of numbering. All telephone numbers must eventually consist of two letters and five figures—for example: LAkeview 2-1234.

These new names and numbers are a further step toward the objective of telephone engineers in both countries—a plan that foresees any telephone user dialing practically any telephone number in Canada or the United States without the services of an operator.

ALEC GUINNESS IN 'GREAT EXPECTATIONS' AT 10.35, C-4

BRIGHT NEW SHOW—Hope you picked up the new Do You Trust Your Wife? quiz on Channels 11 and 12 last Tuesday night. Thanks to Edgar Bergen and pals Charlie, Mortimer and Ethel, the promises to be a gay half-hour once it settles down and the "contrived" atmosphere vanishes.

Where and when will the quiz show end though? Surely there is something better in the field of entertainment than a clever emcee testing the various capabilities (or lack of same) of mass homo sapiens? Yet this is what the viewing public must want or the sponsors wouldn't be investing their money in this type of show.

Personally, we hope the day will come when television instructs as it entertains. At the present time the machine is vastly superior to the material transmitted and this needn't be.

NEW COLOR STARS—Edgar Buchanan will have the title role in the new Judy Ryan syndicated film series to be televised in color at 7 p.m. each Monday, beginning Jan. 9, on KING-TV, Channel 5, Seattle.

Buchanan will be seen as the hard-bitten magistrate whose name became "law west of the Pecos." Jack Beutel, who played the part of Billy the Kid in Howard Hughes production, "The Outlaw," that brought Jane Russell to fame, will play Judge Bean's deputy.

Queen's Plate Draws 90 Entries

TORONTO, (CP) — The Ontario Jockey Club said Thursday 90 horses are eligible for the 97th running of the $20,000-added Queen's Plate June 16.

At no time in the history of the racing classic have so many thoroughbreds been eligible at this time of the year.

The field probably will be reduced to 16 or so before the horses go to the post. The 1½-mile race for three-year-olds will be held for the first time at the new $12,000,000 Woodbine track in suburban Milton.

WARMER AREA
The Gulf Stream warms ocean water as far as 280 miles above the Arctic circle in Norway.

Ukrainians in City Celebrating Yule

While most Victorians have been carting out tinsel-shorn Christmas trees for disposal during the week, Ukrainians still have theirs on display because this is Christmas Eve for Catholics of Ukrainian descent.

Ukrainians, who belong to the Orthodox Church and the Ukrainian Catholic Church, still observe the Julian Calendar which makes today December 24. Pope Gregory XIII in 1582 was responsible for some of the calendar adjustments.

The event will be observed tonight in Ukrainian-Canadian homes with a Christmas Eve supper called the Svyata Vechera. Twelve different meatless dishes will be served as soon as the first star appears to symbolize the star of Bethlehem.

The menu will include Kutia, a sweet dish made of wheat grain, poppy seeds, honey and nuts to symbolize agricultural life, and Kolach, a curiously twisted white bread to symbolize prosperity.

CHURCH ATTENDANCE
As there is no Orthodox Church in Victoria, Ukrainians will attend the regular Sunday Anglican Church services. The Anglican Church recognizes the Orthodox Communion Service.

Ukrainians of the Catholic Church will attend a 10 o'clock Christmas Day Mass at St. Nicholas Church at the corner of Cook and Caledonia.

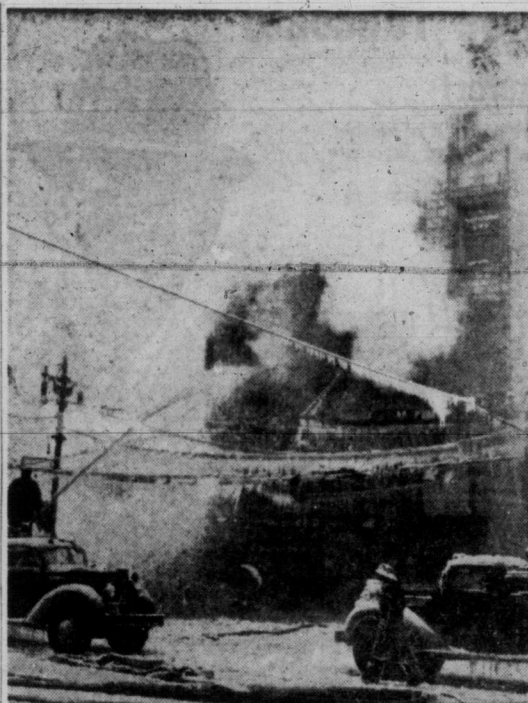

Tonight also has special significance for Canadians steeped in Anglo-Saxon tradition as it is "Twelfth Night," marking the end of the Yuletide festivities.

Working in icy weather, firemen battle a blaze which destroyed the Huron and Erie building at Portage avenue and Fort street in downtown Winnipeg. A Huron and Erie Mortgage Co., official said cost of replacement will be at least $750,000.

You Never Saw a Purple Cow? Why, Here's One With a Bra

SHAFESBURY, England (CP)—The trouble is, he confided, "the cows are not completely happy with the bras. The plastic makes a sort of cracking noise when the cows pad about. They don't like the noise."

Farmet Frank Newman Turner, who owns 80 cows in England's west country, has been pondering the delicate problem of how to alleviate the misery of his short-legged cows whose milk-making equipment drags in the mud, requiring much painful scrubbing.

After hours of thought and research, he has hit upon the simple but practical idea of what he calls "a cow-bra."

He makes them out of a semi-transparent plastic which he loops over the cow's back.

VICTORIA DAILY TIMES

JOE'S ROADWORK WON'T CATCH UP

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Joe Louis owes the government "well over $1,000,000 in back taxes" according to an article in Jan. 7 issue of the Saturday Evening Post under the byline "By Joe Louis—as told to Edward Linn."

He says his gross purses during his ring career totalled $4,606,721.69.

The article says Louis doesn't actually know how much the tax total is and figures he never can get even because "it's like doing roadwork on a treadmill."

Louis writes that he owed something like $700,000 a year ago, of which $544,945 was the original assessment and the remainder interest at six per cent.

He said a new claim was filed against him Nov. 29, 1955 for $507,610 in taxes and interest.

Spokane Boxer Slain on Street

SPOKANE (AP) — Oscar Gould, 31, a middleweight boxer who appeared in many preliminary bouts in the Northwest during the last two years, was shot in the back and killed on a downtown street corner early Friday.

Louis Thomas Anderson, 31, an unemployed fry cook, was arrested and admitted the shooting.

ODETTE CHURCHILL

Heroine Jittery at Own Wedding

LONDON (AP)—Odette Churchill, heroic wartime allied spy who withstood Nazi tortures unflinchingly, developed a case of jitters today when she was married to Geoffrey McLeod Hallows.

Pale and trembling, she nervously posed for a squad of photographers at Caxton Hall registry office and then sighed, "Thank goodness that's over."

As Odette, the secret agent, she was awarded the George Cross for heroism in occupied France. Her husband was also a secret agent.

The French-born Odette was divorced two months ago by British Capt. Peter Churchill, no relation to Sir Winston, whose life she saved during the war and married a short time later.

Top Doctor Bucks Federal-Provincial Health Insurance

TORONTO (CP)—Dr. T.C. Routley of Toronto, president of the Canadian Medical Association, said Thursday he opposes any government-financed national health plan for Canada.

Dr. Routley told an Empire Club meeting he assumes that forthcoming discussions between the federal and provincial governments might lead to establishment of some form of national health program. Such a program should be based on a principle of prepayment-by-recipients.

Why, he asked, should any bureaucracy be set up to operate any scheme in Canada, when nine provincial medical societies had established health insurance which was operating efficiently and at cost?

Skier Drives Pole Clean Through Thigh

GRINDELWALD, Switzerland (UP)—Maria Kowalska of Poland provided a surprise at the Swiss open ski championships today by winning the women's slalom race after Russia's Olga Lysenko suffered a grisly accident on the icy hill.

Miss Lysenko fell during one of the two runs which made up the race and drove a guide pole completely through her right thigh. The ends of the pole were sawed off before she was taken to a hospital.

BUSINESS EDITOR DIES

WINNIPEG (CP)—James C. Anderson, business editor of the Winnipeg Tribune, died suddenly today. He was 42.

Born in Dauphin, Mr. Anderson was correspondent for the Winnipeg Free Press for several years before joining the editorial staff in 1940.

He was appointed business editor of The Tribune last year.

"ANYTHING CAN BE SOLD, providing it competes favorably as to price and terms, with the rest of the market." In particular, homes for $5,000 to $12,000 are always in demand. If these properties are properly priced at fair terms, selling should be no difficulty. Although an owner may know this he might sometimes feel the need for frank advice of a man who knows the market sufficiently to help him place the home in its proper classification. Then, too, the fully-qualified salesman should be in a position to clearly assess the financing possibilities that will often give the owner all cash, although the home is sold on low terms. There is a saying in the real estate profession: "A home properly listed is half-sold." Add to that a good knowledge of financing on the part of the realtor and it is more like 90% sold. If you are about to put your home on the market, or perhaps your listed property has only had a few offers, action on the public may I offer my services? Kindly call Mr. Douglas Hawkes at Harry Foster Ltd., 1732 Douglas Street—Phone 2-2101 (after hours 2-4494 or 2-2101).

Fisheries Protection Promised

Premier W. A. C. Bennett today promised the fishing industry full protection before any approval is given to plans for harnessing hydro-electric potential of the Fraser River.

His statement was made following the announcement Wednesday by the B.C. Power Corporation, parent company of the B.C. Electric, that it had formed a new company to develop the Fraser and Columbia rivers.

B.C. Power Corporation president Dal Grauer said his company would not tackle the Fraser unless the salmon runs can be protected. As a first move, the firm donated $50,000 to the University of B.C. to finance studies to determine whether fish and power can both exist on the river.

Garibaldi Development Starts Soon

Provincial government will develop Garibaldi Park, a wonderland hidden 40 miles behind the mountains of North Vancouver, as soon as it is made accessible to Vancouver by highway to Squamish.

Premier Bennett Wednesday told reporters the government has plans for opening the park as soon as the highway is completed.

"Building of the Squamish highway will warrant full development of the beautiful park," said the premier. He said he could not disclose details of the plans at present.

The Squamish highway, which follows the route of the southern extension of the PGE, between North Vancouver and Squamish, is now under construction.

New Type Net Better Snare For Herring

OTTAWA (CP)—Pacific coast herring fishermen may soon be taking bigger catches in quicker time with a new type of trawl net developed by fisheries scientists.

Dr. A. W. H. Needler, director of the Pacific biological station at Nanaimo, B.C., told the annual meeting of the fisheries research board today about the new net which can be towed at higher speeds and catch faster-moving fish.

Experiments on the Pacific coast last year showed the new gear was most effective at night. Numerous catches of 10 to 35 tons of herring had been made in 15 to 20-minute tows at depths from 15 to 35 fathoms.

Experiments in daylight produced catches ranging from five to 15 tons in tows of about 30 minutes on schools of herring at depths of 30 to 50 fathoms, below the normal fishing range of the purse-seine.

The net is constructed mainly of nylon twine and rope instead of cotton. Dr. Needler said this reduces the net's resistance in the water without loss of too much strength. The "otter boards" used to spread the mouth of the net are of a new design and suspended in a new manner.

Free Film Series At Public Library Over Next 4 Months

A series of free film showings, both entertaining and educational, will be presented by the Victoria Public Library at 7:30 p.m., second and fourth Fridays of each month, starting Jan. 13.

The series ends April 27. The first showing features three films, "Round South America," "Twins," and "Trooping the Colors." At all films library books relating to the subjects will be available for circulation.

Admission will be by ticket only. These may be obtained on request at the library information desk before each performance.

Doors of the music room open at 7 p.m. and there will be recorded music for one-half hour until the films start.
